MARY & JOHN – 1630

Copyright 1987 Burton W. Spear

PROVISIONS CARRIED BY THE "MARY & JOHN" IN 1630

By Burton W. Spear

For every 100 passengers in the Winthrop Fleet of 1630, certain provisions were carried on every ship. Assuming babies and small children were not counted, then only about 100 of the 140 "Mary & John" passengers would have been counted for provisions purposes. About 40 were 12 years of age or under. If the above assumptions are true, the "Mary & John" was loaded with the following provisions for the passengers only (excluding crew).

11.000 gallons of beer
1,500 gallons of water
1,2000 loaves of bread
22 hogsheads of beef
40 bushels of peas
20 bushels of oatmeal
1,400 salt cod
96 pounds of candles
1 and 1/2 bushels of mustard seed
20 gallons of oil
2 firkins (casks) of soap
2 rumlets (18 gal. cask) Spanish wine
4,000 salted pollack (fish)
10 firkins (casks) of butter
1,000 pounds of cheese
20 gallons of brandy
2 tierces (42 gals.) of beer and vinegar

The above provisions could have weighed in excess of 150,000 pounds. There were about 15 sailors for every 100 passengers, so they required similar provisions. Since they had to make the return crossing to England, each was counted twice. So, the above figures may be increased by 30%, which means the total provision load may have been about 200,000 pounds, or 100 tons.

In addition, for every 100 male passengers over the age of 16 there were certain quantities of weapons that had to be carried. It is estimated that there were about 50 males on the "Mary & John" over age 16, so the ship should have been required to carry the following:

2 drums
4 cannons
1 ensign (flag)
5 full muskets
45 pounds of shot
1 bullet bag
5 horn flasks
2 extra drumheads
1 partizan (weapon)
40 bastard muskets
5 long fowling muskets
50 swords and belts
6 barrels of powder
1 fish net
2 halberds*
30 corselets (suits of armor)
20 pikes*
10 half pikes*
6 barrels of powder
8 pieces of ordnance
bandoliers (carrying belts)

* Halberds were a long handled weapon; pikes were long pointed weapons and half pikes were short pointed weapons.

Besides the necessary provisions and weapons, there were several other items that needed to be stowed on board ship for use during the long trip across the Atlantic. They included:

supply of linen
shirts
mats
gloves
shoes
brass ladles
Kersey suits
stockings
red knit caps
plain shirts
bolsters
brass spoons
bed ticks
Norwich garters
leather girdles
pint pewter bottles
French copper kettles
black hats
woolen cloth
quart pewter bottles
peppering hops
large quantity unleavened bread
-suits with doublets and hose made of leather lined with oil skin
-falling bands (the wide, white collar usually associated with the Puritan)
-waist coats of green cotton bound with red tape
-blankets made of Welch cotton sheets

That's not all that was carefully tucked aboard the small, crowded vessel. In preparation for the crops the settlers hoped to plant they took seeds, hoping to harvest such things as wheat, barley, rye, oats, beans, pear peaches, plums, filberts (European hazel nuts), cherries, pears, apples, quince, pomegranates (red berry), licorice, hops, hemp,, flax and currants. They also brought grape vines and apple seedlings. Other necessities included madder and woad, herb seeds to be used in the manufacture of red and blue dye. Finally, they took along such domestic animals as coneys (European rabbits), cattle, sheep and goats. The feed for these animals added more weight and took up valuable space.

ADDENDA TO DORSET REGISTER DATA

The seven villages included in this ancestor search were chosen for several reasons, 1) because of the proximity of most of them to each other (Bridport, Symondsbury, Netherbury, Powerstock, Thorncombe), which would have been imperative during the years of research interest (the century or so leading to the emigration of our known ancestors in 1630), and 2) the evidence we had before our trip of specific towns where these early Fords and Chards lived in Dorset.

Jeff & I first visited most of these towns as part of the Windsor Heritage Tour conducted in August 1995 by Donna Siemiatkoski. We then spent a week on our own in Dorset, living in a small house in Bridport, making daily visits to all the towns. Our research in all the towns was concentrated on churches, graveyards, and in the Bridport and Dorchester museums and genealogical archives.

Our research certainly validated the initial premise we had, that these were the towns our ancestors came from. We found abundant new evidence of their presence here from very early days.

As always, what we did not find was as interesting and useful as what we did. Example: We found no Chardes in any of the towns from the earliest records available until 1630 except in Netherbury before 1600, and abundantly in Bridport from 1608 through 1632 (the last date of our search). Yet we did find the record of Elizabeth Charde's wedding to Aaron Cooke in Thorncombe in 1610. What was she doing there? We may never know. Both their children were baptized in Bridport, and both father Aaron and daughter Elizabeth were buried there. We've read that most towns had only an occasional or parttime minister; also of the intense loyalty families had to a particular minister, so the most likely explanation of the wedding in Thorncombe may just demonstrate those general facts.

si abbot of rde Abbey was

amas vicar of
Mary's Thorncombe
1539

The records we accumulated certainly demonstrate how easy and frequent the commerce was among these towns, and how often the same person will appear in the records of several towns. (To illustrate, another vignette: Hannah & Thomas Ford, the two youngest children born to Elizabeth Chard Cooke & Thomas Ford, were both baptized in Dorchester but buried in Piddlehinton.)The distances are so slight it is easy to imagine this. In the week we spent there, we never went out of a 15 mile radius!

Following are a few additional bits of information about some of the towns which influenced us in constructing these possible families.

BRIDPORT

The parliamentary boundaries of Bridport were enlarged after the reform act to include certain portions of Allington, Bradpole, Walditch, Symondsbury, Burton, Bradstock and Botherhampton.

The concentration of Chardes in this Bridport town influenced us to postulate that they were all somehow part of the same extended family.

PIDDLEHINTON

Piddlehinton is the town most removed from the others. The baptism there of several Fords whose names we know from wills, plus the absolute lack of similar names in any other towns very likely indicates that this family lived there previous to the start of these records. John Ford's marriage there to Joan Beck, and his brothere Robert's marriage to Faith Phillips are further evidence of Ford presence in this town. Three burials fill out this possibility: Willisam Ford in 1633, probably the same person who was baptized that year, and the two youngest children of Thomas & Elizabeth Ford. There must have been a family reason for their burial there when we know that at that time Thomas & Elizabeth were living in Dorchester.

POWERSTOCK

Note: The most commonly used name for this village in early records was Poorstock. Sometime in the past several decades, common usage switched to Powerstock, and that name is now the one officially used. Several memorial tributes (large brass tablets fixed to the walls of the entrance to the church) to soldiers killed in WWI and WWII were allowed to keep the reference to Poorstock, out of deference to the men who died while the village had that name. But all other official records have been changed to the village name of Powerstock.

NETHERBURY/SALAWAY ASHE

William Forde als Symes was tithed in Aysshe (Salaway Ashe), part of the Netherbury parish, in 1594. Netherbury burial records show he died in October 1593.

(also in Netherbury parish)

In 1594 Agnes Symes wid was also tithed in Melplash. This is almost certainly William's widow. The entry suggestrs the possibility that this family sometimes just used or was named in records as Symes rather than by the name Symes als Forde or Ford als Symes. This possibility may be reflected in the various Parish Registers.

The HISTORY OF DORSET (see xerox) records both Fords and Chardes as early Parliamentary Representatives: William Charde in Dorset in 1628; Thomas Chard under the reign of Philip

& Mary. Fords were more frequently recorded in this capacity. Simon atte Ford under Henry IV (1399-1413), Henry V (1413-1422), & Henry VI (1422-1461); Thomas atte Ford under Henry V.

Both families are also recorded in early history as Bailiffs: Simon atte fforde in 1390, under Henry V, Henry VI, Thomas Chard & or William Chard in 1461, 1485, 1509, 1547, 1553, 1558, 1603. (This record also has numerous Ways, Paynes, Davidges, Bayleys, Byshops, & Halletts, all names associated in marriage records with Fords & Chardes. More research would surely be likely to be profitable for the Ford-Chard genealogist.

The probability that Mr.Charde is Elizabeth Charde's father raises the possibility that she did descend from gentry or near-gentry. A page from THE VISITATION OF DORSETSHIRE, 1628 > explain shows an Agnes da. of Rich. de Chard, who may be Elizabeth's ancestor. This is especially likely because this is the only Charde family the records show in Netherbury. (This information was obtained from Jane Burrell, Director of the Bridport Museum. She seemed to attach a good deal of significance to it but time did not allow RKF to follow through.)

We included vital records for the several Symes and Bayley of Fords we found. It seems unlikely they are part of the Ford family, yet this possibility should also be researched further.

HUSBAND - Robert FORD-916

Doc: Par Reg Thorncombe, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Only documentation burial rec of "John Forde s. of Robert 15 Apr 1552.

Working theory that he is father of Nickis Ford needs much further research

WIFE -

CHILD 1 - Nickis FORD-925

Doc: Earliest Par Reg of the Parish of Powerstock, Dorset Co. Archives, Dorchester, England

Construction of this family is much in need of further research. Working theory that he may have been the father of William Symes alias Ford based on several factors: 1) Much evidence in parish register that family was in Powerstock in large number, but few enough to have possibly all bee part of an extended family, 2) No other compasrable group of Fords in any other towns in area researched, 3) Fact that William had a son named Nicholas, who may have been named for his grandfather according to the strong prevailing custom of the time, 4) Earliest Ford in register named Robert, may have been his father, also postulated in part because later Robert who married Faith Phillips in 1608 in Piddlehinton may have been son of Nickis

HUSBAND - Nickis FORD-925

Doc: Earliest Par Reg of the Parish of Powerstock, Dorset Co. Archives, Dorchester, England

Construction of this family is much in need of further research. Working theory that he may have been the father of William Symes alias Ford based on several factors: 1) Much evidence in parish register that family was in Powerstock in large number, but few enough to have possibly all bee part of an extended family, 2) No other compasrable group of Fords in any other towns in area researched, 3) Fact that William had a son named Nicholas, who may have been named for his grandfather according to the strong prevailing custom of the time, 4) Earliest Ford in register named Robert, may have been his father, also postulated in part because later Robert who married Faith Phillips in 1608 in Piddlehinton may have been son of Nickis

WIFE - Joane-924

Doc: Earliest Par Reg Powerstock, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Purely speculative choice of family, but based on lack of any other Fords in records at that time, and custom of naming daughters in the family Joane for several later generations. This is just a working theory, & needs much further research

CHILD 1 - Robert FORD-923

Doc: Par Reg Thorncombe, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Only documentation is burial record for "John Forde s. of Robert 15 Apr 1552 May have been brother of Nickis, not his son---or no relation at all, although so few Fords living in Powerstock it seems very likely they are one family

CHILD 2 - Thomas FORDE-921

Doc: Par Reg Powerstrock, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Only documentation is burial record. Needs further research

CHILD 3 - William Symes als FORD-4714

Doc: V.R. Netherbury Parish Register, Vol. I, Burials & Baptisms 1592-1691, Dorset County Archives Transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18: pp 48-52

He seems to have been a person of some substance. He is listed in the Bridport Division, ASH tithing in Netherbury (pg 42), in 1594 as William Forde als Symes G 5. (Need research to det. just what that means. Copy was obtained by RKF from Jane Burrell, Director of the Bridport Museum) Also listed on same page under Melplash tithing in Netherbury for 1594 is "Agnes Symes wid G8." (His wife), and, in Melplash in 1595, Edith Fordes, G 5, who may have been his daughter (named as "my sister Edith Tapp.. in brother Thomas' will)..

His will was proved in 1594, as follows:

Of Melpashe, Netherbury, Dorset
To be buried in churchyard of Netherbury

HUSBAND Nickis FORD-925 Yr of Birth
WIFE Joane-924 Yr of Birth

To poor of churches of Netherbury, Yetminster, Chetnol, Powerstock and to the chapel of Milton
To sons Thomas, Nicholas, Roger and William (under 21)
To Phillippe at 21
To dau. Joan at 21
Moite of farm at Milton
Wife Agnes, executrix
Overseers-Henry Stone and William Henman, clerk
Debts due me from: John Baylie alias Husse, Giles Sanford, John Exall alias Sidwaye, Robert Warren of Lother, John Case, Robert Dey, John Hele, Thomas Gallop, Jr., gent., Netherbury, John Hallett, Sr., and others

Melplash is a part of the Netherbury Parish, or at least it was at the time of William's death. It is no more than 3 miles from Netherbury. RKF & JGF visited both churches in August 1995. (Photos in file.)

His own will plus those of his wife & his son Thomas give names of the following who may have been his children. Some have been proven (), some have not. They are: Thomas(), Nicholas(), Roger(), William(), John(), Joan(*), Phillipa, Edith, Susanna. Needs further research.

HISTORY OF DORSET (author unk.--pages zeroxed by Jane Burrell from copy in Bridport Museum) gives extensive instances of Fords as representatives to Parliament, all from Dorset, as far back Simon Atte Ford, under Henry IV (1399-1413); Simon Atte Ford & Thomas Atte Ford, both under Henry V (1413-1422); Simon Atte Ford under Henry VI (1422-1461). There are also Fords serving as Bailiffs of Bridport: Simon atte fforde under Richard II in 1390; Simon atte fforde under Henry IV (1399-1413); Simon atte fforde under Henry VI in 1422. Ms. Burrell thought these were ancestors of Deacon Thomas Ford, but needs more research. (See file for copy of pp. 9-13)

Other wills in M&J Series trace a number of other possible ancestors of Thomas Ford back as far as 1518 (See above ref.), but need to be further researched

CHILD 4 - Elizabeth FFORDE-922

Doc: Par Reg Powerstock, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Only documentation is marrieage record. Working theory that she belongs in this family based on few other Fords shown to be there at this time. Needs further research

CHILD 5 - John FORD-920

Doc: Par Reg Powerstock, Dorset Co Archives, Dorchester, England

Only documentation is burial record of "Jane wife of John Ford 13 Jan 1576 in Powerstock

HUSBAND - William Symes als FORD-4714

Doc: V.R. Netherbury Parish Register, Vol. I, Burials & Baptisms 1592-1691, Dorset County Archives Transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18: pp 48-52

He seems to have been a person of some substance. He is listed in the Bridport Division, ASH tithing in Netherbury (pg 42), in 1594 as William Forde als Symes G 5. HISTORY OF DORSET (author unk.--pages zeroxed by Jane Burrell from copy in Bridport Museum) gives extensive instances of Fords as representatives to Parliament, all from Dorset, as far back Simon Atte Ford, under Henry IV (1399-1413); Simon Atte Ford & Thomas Atte Ford, both under Henry V (1413-1422); Simon Atte Ford under Henry VI (1422-1461). There are also Fords serving as Bailiffs of Bridport: Simon atte fforde under Richard II in 1390; Simon atte fforde under Henry IV (1399-1413); Simon atte fforde under Henry VI in 1422. Ms. Burrell thought these were ancestors of Deacon Thomas Ford, but needs more research. (See file for copy of pp. 9-13)

Other wills in M&J Series trace a number of other possible ancestors of Thomas Ford back as far as 1518 (See above ref.), but need to be further researched

HUSBAND William Symes als FORD-4714 Yr of Birth 1542
WIFE Agnes-4715 Yr of Birth 1546

WIFE - Agnes-4715

Doc: V.R. Netherbury Parish Register Baptisms & Burials 1592-1691, Transcript Dorset CO Archives; M&J Series Vol 18:51-52

Listed by name in her husband's will, "Wife Agnes, executrix".

Listed in transcript of Burials Register as "Agnes Symes als Fooade Wid." (Original record in was Latin). Probably buried frin churchyard of St. Mary the Virgin Church, where her husband's will directed he be buried 23 years earlier. (Zerox of burial transcript in file)

Her will probated 11 Jan 1617 names sons Nicholas, Roger and William. She names her deceased son, Thomas. She also names a son John Ford, who she leaves only 20 shillings, while she leaves her other sons from 20 to 40 pounds.

CHILD 1 - John FORDE ALS SYMES-4712

Doc: Piddlehinton Parish Register MARRIAGES, Dorset Co Archives transcript; Vol I Powerstock BURIALS, Dorset Co Archives transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18:48-52

No baptism record found. Need to find/search earlier records. Family seems to have lived in Netherbury for centuries, so that is considered most likely place of birth.

Listed in P.R. for birth of both sons, Thomas and John,as John Symes als Forde; may have dropped the "Symes als" after that. Named in Powerstock burial records as John Forde.

Named in brother Thomas' will dated 20 Jan 1610/11, also in mother's will dated 1616, but not in Father's will.[Could he have been a "black sheep" of the family, ignored by his father and minimized with a pittnce for an inheritance by his mother?]

Marriage: Volume labeled "Earliest Register Powerstock". Marriage date occurs five years after the birth of son Thomas. Question arises whether this is a second marriage, and Joan Beck is not Thomas' mother.

CHILD 2 - Thomas FORD-4716

Doc: M&J Series Vol 18: 51-52

His will was dated 20 Jan 1610/11 & proved 8 May 1611 (PCC 45 Wood). It names him as a Merchant of Dorchester

It says:

To be buried in churchyard of St. Peter's in Dorchester
To St. Peter's, Holy Trinity and All Saints in Dorchester
To sister Sysseu (Susanna?) Bishope of Blandford and to her children now living
To sister Edith Tapp and her children now living
To sister Joan Pennyes now living
To brother John Ford
To widow Comfrye and her daughter Ann and to her daughter-in-law Ann Comfrey and her daughter "Tarterye" and her son

To god-daughter Agnes Hayne
To god-son Thomas Evered
To Walter Goulde and William Jolyff
Executor: Thomas, son of my brother John
Overseers: Walter Goulde and William Jolyff
Witnesses: Robert Foye and William Jolyff

He seems to have been without issue.

In TAG 16:41-43 Donald L. Jacobus said," It is not unlikely that the emigrant [Deacon Thomas Ford] was a nephew [this] Thomas Ford named in the above will as a residuary legatee; and his removal to Dorchester some years before he emigrated may have been motivated by the ownership of inherited property in that city".

CHILD 3 - Joan FORD-4720

Doc: Par reg BIRTH:Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Powerstock; MARRIAGE: church of St. John the Divine, Symondsbury; DEATH: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Netherbury; Dorset Co. Archives, England; M&J Series Vol 18:52

BAPTISM: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Powerstock. [RKF analysis of all parish records in vicinity of Bridport showed baptisms of only 3 Joan Forde, all in Powerstock: 2 died on day of birth, leaving designated date the only possible registered baptismal date.]

Marriage: Symondsbury Church of St. John the Divine (see file for zerox)
If this assumed marriage is correct, she may have been the mother of two children recorded in zerox copies of the parish register: Thomas, bpt. 14 Jul 1611, & Elizabeth, bpt. 1 Nov 1614. Both are named children of Robert Hallet.(See file for copies)

Death/Burial: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Netherbury. Recorded as "Joan Hallet, widow". This assumes she was the Joan Ford who married Robert Hallet.

Father's will proved 23 Jan 1593/4 proves she was alive then. Mother's will of 1616/17 does not mention her. Will of her brother Thomas (dated 20 Jan 1610/11) names "sister Joan Pennyes now living"; makes probable death of 1st husband, &/or 2nd m. to ______Pennyes. Needs further research.

CHILD 4 - Nicholas FORD-4717

Doc: M&J Vol 18:52; Par Reg Church of St Mary the Virgin, Powerstock, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Bpt. record names "Nycholas Ford b. 1570, but date appears at end of year, and is assumed to belong in 1571. No parents named. Another Nicholas Ford was bpt. in Powerstock 15 Jul 1570, but that date conflicts with b. of only Joan Ford who could be his sister. A 3rd Nicholas Ford was bpt. in Piddlehinton 22 Apr 1610, but would seem less likely to belong in this family; also would have been too young to be the only Nicholas married registered in any of the parishes searched. The only other Nicholas Ford found in any of the parishes searched by RKF in 1995 was one burial in Powerstock of "Nickis

HUSBAND William Symes als FORD-4714 Yr of Birth 1542
WIFE Agnes-4715 Yr of Birth 1546

Ford 11 Apr 1570. Since no parent is named, seems most likely this was an adult. Needs further validation.

Mother's will proved 11 Jan 1616/17 indicates he was probably alive in January 1617; he may have died that year, if his wife was the woman recorded as "Julian Ford" who married a William Gosling in February 1617.

CHILD 5 - Susanna FORDE-4125

Doc: Par Reg Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Powerstock, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Not certain whether she belongs in this family. Not mentioned in father's will. Will of her possible brother Thomas Ford names "sister Sysseu Bishope of Blandford and to her children now living". This is the only name in search of parish registers that could possibly be the same person. Needs validation.

CHILD 6 - Roger FORD ALS SYMES-4718

Doc: M&J Series Vol 18:52

Daughter's bpt. rec. indicates he maintained the name "Forde als Symes", but later burial record of his son in Dorchester in 1610 shows only "Ford". Did he move to Dorchester before 1610, as other family members were doing (or before them); did he change use of name then? More research is needed on the custom & use of nicknames such as this.

Mother's will probated 11 Jan 1616/17 proves he was alive in 1616/17

RKF search of parish records uncovered only two in Dorset County for Roger Ford. One, in Powerstock in 1607, the bpt. of a daughter; 2nd, in 1610, the burial of a son in Dorchester. Both of these children have been attributed to him pending further research.

One record states he was "of Milton". His father's will names a "moite of farm at Milton". This may have been part of a farm, which Roger may have inherited. There is a West Milton a mile or so from Powerstock , which could be the place.

CHILD 7 - William FORD-4719

Doc: M&J Series Vol 18:p 52

Mother's will probated 11 Jan 1616/17 proves he was alive then

He may have used the name "William Symes als Ford", particularly after his father's death. That was the name given for the father of the two babies named Hester, both born after the death of the elder William.

He may have married twice. Dorchester parish records show the marriage of a William Ford to Ann Brine 14 Apr 1600, Holy Trinity Church. No other William Ford is on record who could have been this man. Needs further research.

HUSBAND - John FORDE ALS SYMES-4712

Doc: Piddlehinton Parish Register MARRIAGES, Dorset Co Archives transcript; Vol I Powerstock BURIALS, Dorset Co Archives transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18:48-52

No baptism record found. Need to find/search earlier records. Family seems to have lived in Netherbury for centuries, so that is considered most likely place of birth.

Listed in P.R. for birth of both sons, Thomas and John,as John Symes als Forde; may have dropped the "Symes als" after that. Named in Powerstock burial records as John Forde.

Named in brother Thomas' will dated 20 Jan 1610/11, also in mother's will dated 1616, but not in Father's will.[Could he have been a "black sheep" of the family, ignored by his father and minimized with a pittnce for an inheritance by his mother?]

Marriage: Volume labeled "Earliest Register Powerstock". Marriage date occurs five years after the birth of son Thomas. Question arises whether this is a second marriage, and Joan Beck is not Thomas' mother.

See also The Greta Migration Begins Vol I, pp 688-690

He is listed in the Powerstock Birth record as "Thomas Symes als Ford s of John", so there is no doubt that John Symes als Ford is his father and William Symes als Ford is his grandfather. His father (John) seems to have dropped the "Symes alias" from his name after Thomas' birth, and there is no indication that Thomas ever used any name but Ford.

He has been thought by some researchers to have come from the village of Symondsbury, a mile & a half away from Bridport on a miniscule tributary of the river Brit called the Simene. [Simsbury, CT, later took its name from it]. He may have lived there at some time, but the discovery of his birth records makes it clear that his home was in Powerstock, a village about 4 mi. NE of Bridport, where he m. his first wife, Joane Way, in 1610; where their daughter Mary was born in 1612; and where Joan was buried in 1615.

The Powerstock vital records contain many references to Fordes, and it seems to have been the ancestral home of the Ford family of southwest Dorset from at least the beginning of the 13th century. This family used the alias Symes from the earliest times.(Earliest records name Simon atte Forde, which may be a precursor to name Ford als Symes)

There were two Thomas Fords in Powerstock who had children baptised there beginning in 1608. Jacobus first det. that Mary was the dau. of Thomas Ford & Joan Way. (Her birth record in the Powerstock Parish Register confirms that, as do later records of her removal to America and her subsequent marriage to Aaron Cooke, her step-brother)

His second marriage, to Elizabeth Chard Cooke, was at Holy Trinity Church in Bridport. (Bridport First Parish Register transcript , St. Mary's Church, pg. 54)

After the birth of his first two children with Elizabeth (Joanna in 1617; Abigail in 1619) he moved from Bridport to Dorchester, where he joined the Holy Trinity Church under Rev. John White. He & Elizabeth had 3 children bpt. there: Thomas in 1623; Hepzibah in 1625; & Hannah in 1629. (Both Thomas & Hannah died in infancy and were buried in the church at Piddlehinton.)

He was recruited by the Rev. White to be a member of the party gathering to form a new colony in America under the aegis of Governor Winthrop. He decided to sail on the MARY & JOHN with his wife Elizabeth Chard (Cooke) and their three daughters: Joanna, age 13; Abigail, age 11; Hepzibah, age 5; also his daughter by his first marriage, Mary, age 18, & his step-son, Aaron Cooke, Jr., age 20, Elizabeth's son by her first marriage.

Rev. White was also very influential in shaping the migration. He formed the entire group of MARY & JOHN passengers into a congregation in Plymouth the night before they sailed, which became the first Congregational Church in America! He also preached a farewell sermon just before they set sail on March 20, 1630.

The voyage took just over ten weeks & is well documented (See M&J File). The 140 passengers represented 30 families and 20 bachelors. Among the latter were Aaron Cooke, Jr., John Strong, & Roger Clapp, each of whom later married one of the Ford daughters (Hepzibah, the youngest, married Richard Lyman, who arrived on the LION a year later.) When they arrived at Massachusetts Bay on Sunday, May 30,they anchored off Nantasket Point. They kept the Sabbath that last day & the following morning were put ashore on a desolate spot. (They were to have been taken to a sheltered haven on the Charles River, but the ship's captain decided he could not navigate the tricky waters of Mass. Bay). They found an old abandoned boat belonging to some old planters, and "felt their way through the islands" in the Bay to Charlestown, settling finally in the "desperate wilderness" of Mattapan Neck, which they later renamed Dorchester. [And which much later became part of Boston.] It was the first ship of Winthrop's fleet to arrive in the new world.

He quickly became a prominent citizen of Dorchester. Thistlethwaite (p 85 DORSET PILGRIMS) gives an example of this with a detailed description of the responsibility for the ownership & stewardship of the herd of 45 milk cows & 4 bulls which was accorded to Ford & three other "prominent citizens." But before long there was a good deal of disappointment in life in Dorchester. By

HUSBAND John FORDE ALS SYMES-4712 Yr of Birth 1560
WIFE Joan BECK-4713 Yr of Birth

1635, the population of Massachusetts Bay swelled to 8000 & there was a sense of overcrowding and loss of cohesion. West Country people, Ford apparently among them, continued to prosper & maintain a majority, but they seemed to cling to their own personal friendships & neighborliness, & to fear diminution of their religious principles.

In 1636 fifty-six of the Dorchester household heads, all but the soldier Capt. John "of the gentry and substantial landholders", led by Roger Ludlow, Thomas Newberry, Henry Wolcott & Mason, among them Thomas Ford, sold their property & began a new migration. Their minister, John Warham, much respected, accompanied them. Their trek through the wilderness is well documented by Thistlethwaite (DORCHESTER PILGRIMS Chapt.5) They named their new settlement Dorchester,then, in 1637, renamed it Windsor.

Thomas Ford was an early selectman of the new town, & "one of the richest men in town (ibid p 147). His grants from the Windsor Plantation made him Windsor's fourth richest man. (p 196) His home was at the lower end of Main Street, on the lane to the ferry in the Palisado. Daughter Abigail & her husband John Strong had a home on an adjacent lot, and after marrying Ford daughter Mary, Aaron Cooke & his bride set up house nearby. This is about the time when he & his father-in-law began extensive land speculation & development of farming, including extensive land & development of farming, including substantial holdings at Massaco, later named Simsbury, possibly because both men had come. from the Dorset village of Symondsbury. In 1637, along with four others, Ford had purchased a very large tract of land from the Indian sachem, Tehano, which now included Windsor Locks, the northern third of Windsor and the southern part of Suffield.

After Elizabeth died, in 1643, he married a 3rd time, to Anne, widow of Thomas Scott of Hartford. This third marriage lasted until her death 31 years later!

Once again, in 1654, the Fords and many of their close relatives and friends moved as a group to found Northampton, Mass. Thomas was then 76! His third wife died shortly after their move, but he lived on to the age of 98!

WIFE	Joan FORD-4720	Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - Robert HALLET-4126

Doc: Par Rec Marriage Church of St. John the Baptist, Symondsbury, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Death date est. by record of wife's burial in 1621, where she is recorded as "Joan Hallet, wid."

WIFE - Joan FORD-4720

Doc: Par reg BIRTH:Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Powerstock; MARRIAGE: church of St. John the Divine, Symondsbury; DEATH: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Netherbury; Dorset Co. Archives, England; M&J Series Vol 18:52

BAPTISM: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Powerstock. [RKF analysis of all parish records in vicinity of Bridport showed baptisms of only 3 Joan Forde, all in Powerstock: 2 died on day of birth, leaving designated date the only possible registered baptismal date.]

Marriage: Symondsbury Church of St. John the Divine (see file for zerox) If this assumed marriage is correct, she may have been the mother of two children recorded in zerox copies of the parish register: Thomas, bpt. 14 Jul 1611, & Elizabeth, bpt. 1 Nov 1614. Both are named children of Robert Hallet.(See file for copies)

Death/Burial: Church of St. Mary the Virgin, Netherbury. Recorded as "Joan Hallet, widow". This assumes she was the Joan Ford who married Robert Hallet.

Father's will proved 23 Jan 1593/4 proves she was alive then. Mother's will of 1616/17 does not mention her. Will of her brother Thomas (dated 20 Jan 1610/11) names "sister Joan Pennyes now living"; makes probable death of 1st husband, &/or 2nd m. to ______Pennyes. Needs further research.

HUSBAND - Nicholas FORD-4717

Doc: M&J Vol 18:52; Par Reg Church of St Mary the Virgin, Powerstock, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Bpt. record names "Nycholas Ford b. 1570, but date appears at end of year, and is assumed to belong in 1571. No parents named. Another Nicholas Ford was bpt. in Powerstock 15 Jul 1570, but that date conflicts with b. of only Joan Ford who could be his sister. A 3rd Nicholas Ford was bpt. in Piddlehinton 22 Apr 1610, but would seem less likely to belong in this family; also would have been too young to be the only Nicholas married registered in any of the parishes searched. The only other Nicholas Ford found in any of the parishes searched by RKF in 1995 was one burial in Powerstock of "Nickis Ford 11 Apr 1570. Since no parent is named, seems most likely this was an adult. Needs further validation.

Mother's will proved 11 Jan 1616/17 indicates he was probably alive in January 1617; he may have died that year, if his wife was the woman recorded as "Julian Ford" who married a William Gosling in February 1617.

WIFE - Jolyan LONGE-4128

HUSBAND Roger FORD ALS SYMES-4718 Yr of Birth 1575
WIFE Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - Roger FORD ALS SYMES-4718
Doc: M&J Series Vol 18:52

Daughter's bpt. rec. indicates he maintained the name "Forde als Symes", but later burial record of his son in Dorchester in 1610 shows only "Ford". Did he move to Dorchester before 1610, as other family members were doing (or before them); did he change use of name then? More research is needed on the custom & use of nicknames such as this.

Mother's will probated 11 Jan 1616/17 proves he was alive in 1616/17

RKF search of parish records uncovered only two in Dorset County for Roger Ford. One, in Powerstock in 1607, the bpt. of a daughter; 2nd, in 1610, the burial of a son in Dorchester. Both of these children have been attributed to him pending further research.

One record states he was "of Milton". His father's will names a "moite of farm at Milton". This may have been part of a farm, which Roger may have inherited. There is a West Milton a mile or so from Powerstock , which could be the place.

WIFE -

CHILD 1 - Agnes FORD ALS SYMES-4124
Par Rec Church St Mary the Virgin, Powerstock, Dorset Co Archives, England

Record states she was baptized "Agnes d of Roger Ford als Symes of Milton"

Probably named for her paternal grandmother

CHILD 2 - Roger FORDE-4123
Doc: Par Reg Holy Trinity Church, Dorchester, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Burial record states "Roger son of Roger Forde". No other Rogers found in any of the seven towns searched.

HUSBAND - William FORD-4719

Doc: M&J Series Vol 18:p 52

Mother's will probated 11 Jan 1616/17 proves he was alive then

He may have used the name "William Symes als Ford", particularly after his father's death. That was the name given for the father of the two babies named Hester, both born after the death of the elder William.

He may have married twice. Dorchester parish records show the marriage of a William Ford to Ann Brine 14 Apr 1600, Holy Trinity Church. No other William Ford is on record who could have been this man. Needs further research.

He is listed in the Powerstock Birth record as "Thomas Symes als Ford s of John", so there is no doubt that John Symes als Ford is his father and William Symes als Ford is his grandfather. His father (John) seems to have dropped the "Symes alias" from his name after Thomas' birth, and there is no indication that Thomas ever used any name but Ford.

He has been thought by some researchers to have come from the village of Symondsbury, a mile & a half away from Bridport on a miniscule tributary of the river Brit called the Simene. [Simsbury, CT, later took its name from it]. He may have lived there at some time, but the discovery of his birth records makes it clear that his home was in Powerstock, a village about 4 mi. NE of Bridport, where he m. his first wife, Joane Way, in 1610; where their daughter Mary was born in 1612; and where Joan was buried in 1615.

The Powerstock vital records contain many references to Fordes, and it seems to have been the ancestral home of the Ford family of southwest Dorset from at least the beginning of the 13th century. This family used the alias Symes from the earliest times.(Earliest records name Simon atte Forde, which may be a precursor to name Ford als Symes)

There were two Thomas Fords in Powerstock who had children baptised there beginning in 1608. Jacobus first det. that Mary was the dau. of Thomas Ford & Joan Way. (Her birth record in the Powerstock Parish Register confirms that, as do later records of her removal to America and her subsequent marriage to Aaron Cooke, her step-brother)

His second marriage, to Elizabeth Chard Cooke, was at Holy Trinity Church in Bridport. (Bridport First Parish Register transcript , St. Mary's Church, pg. 54)

After the birth of his first two children with Elizabeth (Joanna in 1617; Abigail in 1619) he moved from Bridport to Dorchester, where he joined the Holy Trinity Church under Rev. John White. He & Elizabeth had 3 children bpt. there: Thomas in 1623; Hepzibah in 1625; & Hannah in 1629. (Both Thomas & Hannah died in infancy and were buried in the church at Piddlehinton.)

He was recruited by the Rev. White to be a member of the party gathering to form a new colony in America under the aegis of Governor Winthrop. He decided to sail on the MARY & JOHN with his wife Elizabeth Chard (Cooke) and their three daughters: Joanna, age 13; Abigail, age 11; Hepzibah, age 5; also his daughter by his first marriage, Mary, age 18, & his step-son, Aaron Cooke, Jr., age 20,

Elizabeth's son by her first marriage.

Rev. White was also very influential in shaping the migration. He formed the entire group of MARY & JOHN passengers into a congregation in Plymouth the night before they sailed, which became the first Congregational Church in America! He also preached a farewell sermon just before they set sail on March 20, 1630.

The voyage took just over ten weeks & is well documented (See M&J File). The 140 passengers represented 30 families and 20 bachelors. Among the latter were Aaron Cooke, Jr., John Strong, & Roger Clapp, each of whom later married one of the Ford daughters (Hepzibah, the youngest, married Richard Lyman, who arrived on the LION a year later.) When they arrived at Massachusetts Bay on Sunday, May 30,they anchored off Nantasket Point. They kept the Sabbath that last day & the following morning were put ashore on a desolate spot. (They were to have been taken to a sheltered haven on the Charles River, but the ship's captain decided he could not navigate the tricky waters of Mass. Bay). They found an old abandoned boat belonging to some old planters, and "felt their way through the islands" in the Bay to Charlestown, settling finally in the "desperate wilderness" of Mattapan Neck, which they later renamed Dorchester. [And which much later became part of Boston.] It was the first ship of Winthrop's fleet to arrive in the new world.

He quickly became a prominent citizen of Dorchester. Thistlethwaite (p 85 DORSET PILGRIMS) gives an example of this with a detailed description of the responsibility for the ownership & stewardship of the herd of 45 milk cows & 4 bulls which was accorded to Ford & three other "prominent citizens." But before long there was a good deal of disappointment in life in Dorchester. By 1635, the population of Massachusetts Bay swelled to 8000 & there was a sense of overcrowding and loss of cohesion. West Country people, Ford apparently among them, continued to prosper & maintain a majority, but they seemed to cling to their own personal friendships & neighborliness, & to fear diminution of their religious principles.

In 1636 fifty-six of the Dorchester household heads, all but the soldier Capt. John "of the gentry and substantial landholders", led by Roger Ludlow, Thomas Newberry, Henry Wolcott & Mason, among them Thomas Ford, sold their property & began a new migration. Their minister, John Warham, much respected, accompanied them. Their trek through the wilderness is well documented by Thistlethwaite (DORCHESTER PILGRIMS Chapt.5) They named their new settlement Dorchester,then, in 1637, renamed it Windsor.

Thomas Ford was an early selectman of the new town, & "one of the richest men in town (ibid p 147). His grants from the Windsor Plantation made him Windsor's fourth richest man. (p 196) His home was at the lower end of Main Street, on the lane to the ferry in the Palisado. Daughter Abigail & her husband John Strong had a home on an adjacent lot, and after marrying Ford daughter Mary, Aaron Cooke & his bride set up house nearby. This is about the time when he & his father-in-law began extensive land speculation & development of farming, including extensive land & development of farming, including substantial holdings at Massaco, later named Simsbury, possibly because both men had come. from the Dorset village of Symondsbury. In 1637, along with four others, Ford had purchased a very large tract of land from the Indian sachem, Tehano, which now included Windsor Locks, the northern third of Windsor and the southern part of Suffield.

After Elizabeth died, in 1643, he married a 3rd time, to Anne, widow of Thomas Scott of Hartford. This third marriage lasted until her death 31 years later!

Once again, in 1654, the Fords and many of their close relatives and friends moved as a group to found Northampton, Mass. Thomas was then 76! His third wife died shortly after their move, but he lived on to the age of 98!

Death: Northampton VR Vol 1, p 135. According to Anderson, in THE GREAT MIGRATION BEGINS VOL I, Thomas "left an estate totalling 195 Lb, 17 s, 9 d, with no real estate included."

Her parents were Stephen Way & Ursula Gill (Bpt. Reg Powerstock lists her as "da of Steven Way")

She may have been related to Henry Way, b. 1583, Bridport, & his first cousin Nicholas Denslow of Allington (Bridport), both of whom came to America on the Mary & John in 1630 . (Parents: Henry Way & Edith Denslow, m. Allington, Dorset 10 Feb. A Henry Way married Bazill Ford in Bridport 11 Apr 1619--not certain this is the same man)

Her mother died when she was 3 years old. Some time after that, her father moved to Bridport, where he seems to have met & married Elizabeth Chard Cooke. She came to America at the age of 18 on the MARY & JOHN with her father & step-mother, her 3 half-sisters & her step-brother, Aaron Cooke, Jr., whom she later married.

She died about 1645, probably in Northampton although no documentation has been found to date. She may have died in childbirth, as 1645 is the date of borth of her fourth child.

But before long there was a good deal of disappointment in life in Dorchester. By 1635, the population of Massachusetts Bay swelled to 8000 & there was a sense of overcrowding and loss of cohesion. West Country people, Ford apparently among them, continued to prosper & maintain a majority, but they seemed to cling to their own personal friendships & neighborliness, & to fear diminution of their religious principles.

The title page of "Christings" in the earliest Netherbury register gives the years of inclusion as 1592-1691, but there are three small typed sheets inserted at the beginning of the register with baptisms from 1586-1588. These pages are titled "from Wren Hall transcripts" and are explained by a note hand written on the title page, which states "In 1970 I got copies of transcripts for years 1585-8 from the Archives, Salisbury. These copies are in Netherbury safe. My readings of them typed overleaf." The signature is hard to read, possibly P.D.May. Beneath this he notes numerous years for which transcripts exist, naming "Salisbury transcripts at Wren Hall Archives, the Close." Much more research should be done on this project! (See file for xerox copy)

Her baptism is recorded on the first of these pages and reads "Elisebethe CHARD the x of Julie." In 1588, on the second small page, another child was recorded as "Mr CHARDE'S chillde the xvth of September."

There are no other Charde's listed later in any part of the Netherbury Reg. [It should be noted that MARRIAGE records for Netherbury were not available at the Dorset Co. Archives. The title page states "The marriages will be found in Vol VII of Phillimore's Dorset Registers."]

The Bridport Registers give evidence that the family moved there some time after these two births. In the absence of bpt. records for any other Chardes, in any of the town registers examined (i.e. Dorchester, Piddlehinton, Symondsbury, Thorncombe) it is likely that Elizabeth's other possible siblings were born before her, i.e., before the start of records available during RKF search.

Elizabeth appeared once in Thorncombe records, when she married Aaron Cooke Cooke there in 1610. (See file for xerox copy) Those records list two other

HUSBAND Thomas FORD-936 Yr of Birth
WIFE Elizabeth Charde (COOKE)-4360 Yr of Birth

Charde weddings)one to her brother Thomas; one to a much younger Elizabeth who may have been her niece). No Chardes are found in either Thorncombe's marriage or burial registers. Elizabeth & Aaron's first child was born in Bridport in 1611, as was their second child, Aaron, Jr. in 1614. Both little Elizabeth & Aaron, her father were buried in Bridport in 1614. The family obviously moved there shortly after their wedding.(Thorncombe is 10 miles NW of Bridport)

According to the M&J Search Series....."Chard does not appear to be a very common name in Dorset and the few Chard entries in the IGI records of that county appear to be related to...(her)." However, the Director of the Bridport Museum indicated that there were a number of Chardes in Bridport and, as stated above, the Bridport Registers starting in 1600 bear this out. Needs more research. (Numerous other ref. to Chardes in wills & official rec. in Dorset are detailed in M&J Series Vol 18, pp 38-39)

Elizabeth is said to be the mother of more Americans than any other woman. Her children all formed large families: Cookes, Strongs, Clapps, Lymans, & many of the Marshes all descend from this woman. In her pamphlet REFLECTIONS ON THE MARY AND JOHN II TOUR 1988, Donna Siemiatkoski notes "The implications of the influence of this woman on the life of the new nation are staggering, as her descendants spread from the Connecticut Valley westward from early times and seeded the life of the nation in every field of endeavor."

Death: Windsor VR (Vol 1 p 44): The wife of Thomas Ford was buried April 18, 1643. (Her husband and most of her family removed to Northampton, Mass, in 1654.

Doc: Par Reg transcripts Birth: Holy Trinity Church, Dorchester; Burial: Parish Church Piddlehinton; Dorset Co. Archives; also M&J Series Vol 18:p 53

He was the only male heir, & his death meant the name Ford was not carried forward in this family in America

CHILD 4 - Hepzibah FORD-928

Doc: Northampton V.R. Death Rec. VOL I, p 139; Coleman p 39; also Maude Pinney Kunns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p. 24; her will

Came to America in 1630 at age 5 on the MARY & JOHN with her parents, her two sisters Joanna & Abigail; her half-sister Mary, and her half-brother Aaron Cooke. Landed in Nantasket in 1630. Settled first in Dorchester.

Her family settled in East Windsor, near the Hartford line (Coleman p 39)

First Marriage: Doc. in Coleman as occurring in Windsor. (To date doc not found in any records.)

Second Marriage: Northampton V.R. Bk 1 p 100: married 7 Oct 1664, to John Marsh, Sr., of Hadley, Mass. She & Mr. Marsh moved to Hadley after their marriage. (Note that two years later her daughter Sarah Lyman married his son, John Marsh, Jr.)

Her sister Abigail was the wife of Elder John Strong of Dorchester & Windsor, the patriarch of the Strongs, a well known early American dynasty with a pub. extensive genealogy. The Strongs & many of their children & related families removed to Northampton with the Lymans.

Her sister Johanna was the wife of Roger Clapp, a fellow passenger on the Lyon & the author of the only known personal journal of that journey (see file). The Clapps are both buried in the very old cemetery in downtown Boston.

Hepzibah's half-brother Aaron Cooke (by her mother's first marriage) married her half-sister Mary Ford (by her father's first marriage), another interesting twist for this family.

Death: Place of burial not known. Will was probated in Hadley, but she seems to have died in Northampton. The last paragraph in the will refers to an "addition to the will of Hepzibah Marsh." It is an agreement on land given by "ye well beloved Mother Marsh", who was deceased May 28, 1683. (Prob. Rec. Reel 1.1 Northampton, MA, Registry of Probate Books, pg 234-235. Forbes Library)

HUSBAND - Thomas FORD-936

Doc: Birth: Parish Register Powerstock, Dorset CO Archives Transcript; Death: Northampton VR Vol I p 135; Maude Pinney Kuhns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. Tuttle Co. 1971 p 24; Gary Boyd Power: THE NEW ENGLAND ANCESTRY OF H.R.H. THE PRINCESS OF WALES, New England Hist. & Gen. Register Vol. CXXXXVI April 1982; NEHGSD Corbin Collection MF Reel #82-54, card # 3700, Northampton V.R.; Mary & John Search Series Vol 18:pp 48-53. (See also TAG 16:41-43, July 1939, an article by Donald Jacobus which is considered one of the best in the search for the ancestry of Thomas Ford.) See also The Greta Migration Begins Vol I, pp 688-690

He is listed in the Powerstock Birth record as "Thomas Symes als Ford s of John", so there is no doubt that John Symes als Ford is his father and William Symes als Ford is his grandfather. His father (John) seems to have dropped the "Symes alias" from his name after Thomas' birth, and there is no indication that Thomas ever used any name but Ford.

He has been thought by some researchers to have come from the village of Symondsbury, a mile & a half away from Bridport on a miniscule tributary of the river Brit called the Simene. [Simsbury, CT, later took its name from it]. He may have lived there at some time, but the discovery of his birth records makes it clear that his home was in Powerstock, a village about 4 mi. NE of Bridport, where he m. his first wife, Joane Way, in 1610; where their daughter Mary was born in 1612; and where Joan was buried in 1615.

The Powerstock vital records contain many references to Fordes, and it seems to have been the ancestral home of the Ford family of southwest Dorset from at least the beginning of the 13th century. This family used the alias Symes from the earliest times.(Earliest records name Simon atte Forde, which may be a precursor to name Ford als Symes)

There were two Thomas Fords in Powerstock who had children baptised there beginning in 1608. Jacobus first det. that Mary was the dau. of Thomas Ford & Joan Way. (Her birth record in the Powerstock Parish Register confirms that, as do later records of her removal to America and her subsequent marriage to Aaron Cooke, her step-brother)

His second marriage, to Elizabeth Chard Cooke, was at Holy Trinity Church in Bridport. (Bridport First Parish Register transcript , St. Mary's Church, pg. 54)

After the birth of his first two children with Elizabeth (Joanna in 1617; Abigail in 1619) he moved from Bridport to Dorchester, where he joined the Holy Trinity Church under Rev. John White. He & Elizabeth had 3 children bpt. there: Thomas in 1623; Hepzibah in 1625; & Hannah in 1629. (Both Thomas & Hannah died in infancy and were buried in the church at Piddlehinton.)

He was recruited by the Rev. White to be a member of the party gathering to form a new colony in America under the aegis of Governor Winthrop. He decided to sail on the MARY & JOHN with his wife Elizabeth Chard (Cooke) and their three daughters: Joanna, age 13; Abigail, age 11; Hepzibah, age 5; also his daughter by his first marriage, Mary, age 18, & his step-son, Aaron Cooke, Jr., age 20,

HUSBAND Thomas FORD-936 Yr of Birth
WIFE Ann SCOTT-4065 Yr of Birth

Elizabeth's son by her first marriage.

Rev. White was also very influential in shaping the migration. He formed the entire group of MARY & JOHN passengers into a congregation in Plymouth the night before they sailed, which became the first Congregational Church in America! He also preached a farewell sermon just before they set sail on March 20, 1630.

The voyage took just over ten weeks & is well documented (See M&J File). The 140 passengers represented 30 families and 20 bachelors. Among the latter were Aaron Cooke, Jr., John Strong, & Roger Clapp, each of whom later married one of the Ford daughters (Hepzibah, the youngest, married Richard Lyman, who arrived on the LION a year later.) When they arrived at Massachusetts Bay on Sunday, May 30,they anchored off Nantasket Point. They kept the Sabbath that last day & the following morning were put ashore on a desolate spot. (They were to have been taken to a sheltered haven on the Charles River, but the ship's captain decided he could not navigate the tricky waters of Mass. Bay). They found an old abandoned boat belonging to some old planters, and "felt their way through the islands" in the Bay to Charlestown, settling finally in the "desperate wilderness" of Mattapan Neck, which they later renamed Dorchester. [And which much later became part of Boston.] It was the first ship of Winthrop's fleet to arrive in the new world.

He quickly became a prominent citizen of Dorchester. Thistlethwaite (p 85 DORSET PILGRIMS) gives an example of this with a detailed description of the responsibility for the ownership & stewardship of the herd of 45 milk cows & 4 bulls which was accorded to Ford & three other "prominent citizens." But before long there was a good deal of disappointment in life in Dorchester. By 1635, the population of Massachusetts Bay swelled to 8000 & there was a sense of overcrowding and loss of cohesion. West Country people, Ford apparently among them, continued to prosper & maintain a majority, but they seemed to cling to their own personal friendships & neighborliness, & to fear diminution of their religious principles.

In 1636 fifty-six of the Dorchester household heads, all but the soldier Capt. John "of the gentry and substantial landholders", led by Roger Ludlow, Thomas Newberry, Henry Wolcott & Mason, among them Thomas Ford, sold their property & began a new migration. Their minister, John Warham, much respected, accompanied them. Their trek through the wilderness is well documented by Thistlethwaite (DORCHESTER PILGRIMS Chapt.5) They named their new settlement Dorchester,then, in 1637, renamed it Windsor.

Thomas Ford was an early selectman of the new town, & "one of the richest men in town (ibid p 147). His grants from the Windsor Plantation made him Windsor's fourth richest man. (p 196) His home was at the lower end of Main Street, on the lane to the ferry in the Palisado. Daughter Abigail & her husband John Strong had a home on an adjacent lot, and after marrying Ford daughter Mary, Aaron Cooke & his bride set up house nearby. This is about the time when he & his father-in-law began extensive land speculation & development of farming, including extensive land & development of farming, including substantial holdings at Massaco, later named Simsbury, possibly because both men had come. from the Dorset village of Symondsbury. In 1637, along with four others, Ford had purchased a very large tract of land from the Indian sachem, Tehano, which now included Windsor Locks, the northern third of Windsor and the southern part of Suffield.

After Elizabeth died, in 1643, he married a 3rd time, to Anne, widow of Thomas Scott of Hartford. This third marriage lasted until her death 31 years later!

Once again, in 1654, the Fords and many of their close relatives and friends moved as a group to found Northampton, Mass. Thomas was then 76! His third wife died shortly after their move, but he lived on to the age of 98!

HUSBAND - Roger CLAPP Capt.-4695

Doc: M&J Search Series, Vols 4, p 25-49; 11, p 70-72; 13, p 128-141; 15, p 12-13; 17, p 30-34; ROGER CLAPP MEMOIRS

His parents were William Clapp & Johan Channon, who were m. in the Church of St. Peter & St. Mary in the village of Salcombe Regis, 11 Sept. 1593. He was bpt. there in 1609. At the time of his birth his parents were living on Coomb Wood Farm. Their home, a large two story thatched roofed cottage, still still stands & is now a private dwelling. It is only a few hundred yards from the chalk cliffs that fall 200 feet into the English Channel. M&J Search Series, Vol 13, pp 128-141)

His paternal grandfather, Richard Clapp and his great-grandfather, William Clapp, lived in nearby Sidbury from the early 1500's. His maternal grandfather, Robert Channon and his great-grandfather, William Channon, were mariners & fishermen in the nearby port of Sidmouth, a large town on the English Channel.

He was a follower of Rev. John Warham, & obtained his father's permission to join the group who sailed on the MARY & JOHN in 1630. His memoirs are the only first-hand record of the jourtney of the MARY & JOHN.

He settled in Dorchester, which later became part of Boston (Suffolk Co. was not organized until 1643) and remained there all his life. He served in both civil & military offices early on, & was authorized to perform marriages. He served in the General Court. He was known as a very pious & religious man, as his memoirs document.

In August 1665, he was appointed Captain of the Castle, the "principal fortress of the province" and he continued in command there for 21 years. He resided there in those years with his family.

His burial in the Old Burying Ground was described as follows by Joseph Drake, Jr. (Memoirs, p 34-35) " He was buried in the old burying place in Boston; the military officers going before the corpse, and next the relations, the Governor and the whole General Court following after; and the guns firing at the Castle at the same time."His gravestone in the Burying Ground is attached to the Stone Chapel.

HUSBAND Richard LYMAN-927 Yr of Birth 1617
WIFE Hepzibah FORD-928 Yr of Birth 1625

HUSBAND - Richard LYMAN-927

Doc: Coleman p 37; E.R.O., Par Rec High Ongar, Baptisms 1538-1623. "Richard, son of Richard Lyman and of Sarah, his wife was bpt. 24 Feb 1617."

Named for his father, as the eldest son. He came to America with his parents & siblings on the Lyon in 1631 when he was 13 years old.

After his father's death, he married Hepzibah Ford of Windsor (reputedly in Northampton. Records there started in 1634. No official doc. found to date.) & they lived in Windsor for 15 years. Six of their children were born there. (No doc. to date--no records of these births in Windsor, Northampton or Hartford found to date). Known to be living in Windsor in 1644 through land record there as follows: "24 July 1644 Richard Lyomn (sic) of Windsor sold 100 acres 'toward Hartford'" (Windsor Deeds Vol I, pg 100). No evidence he owned land in Windsor after that.

Coleman notes that he occupied some of the land of his father Ford "in East Windsor near the Hartford line". Richard & his brothers John & Robert were taxed in Hartford in 1655 "in a rate assessed to build a mill." They probably moved that year to Northampton, where in December Richard was chosen as a select man. Many families from Hartford & Windsor removed to Northampton and Hadley because of the "half-way covenant", a religious dispute which had to do with the meaning of church membership, and who could have their children baptized.

He sold his Father's household at Hartford in 1660.

He appears to have been a man of decided character & influence. Immediately on his removal to Northampton he was appointed one of the first selectmen chosen in that place, and through his short life was engaged in public business.

Death: Northampton VR, Vol 1 Deaths, p 132. [Note Hampshire Co. was formed out of Middlesex Co. in 1662, the year he died]

WIFE - Hepzibah FORD-928

Source: Northampton V.R. Death Rec. VOL I, p 139; Coleman p 39; also Maude Pinney Kunns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p. 24; her will

Came to America in 1630 at age 5 on the MARY & JOHN with her parents, her two sisters Joanna & Abigail; her half-sister Mary, and her step-brother Aaron Cooke. Landed in Nantasket in 1630. Settled first in Dorchester.

Her family settled in East Windsor, near the Hartford line (Coleman p 39)

First Marriage: Doc. in Coleman as occurring in Windsor. (To date doc not found in any records.)

Second Marriage: Northampton V.R. Bk 1 p 100: married 7 Oct 1664, to John Marsh, Sr., of Hadley, Mass. She & Mr. Marsh moved to Hadley after their marriage. (Note that two years later her daughter Sarah Lyman married his son, John Marsh, Jr.)

HUSBAND Richard LYMAN-927 Yr of Birth 1617
WIFE Hepzibah FORD-928 Yr of Birth 1625

Her sister Abigail was the wife of Elder John Strong of Dorchester & Windsor, the patriarch of the Strongs, a well known early American dynasty with a pub. extensive genealogy. The Strongs & many of their children & related families removed to Northampton with the Lymans.

Her sister Johanna was the wife of Roger Clapp, a fellow passenger on the Lyon & the author of the only known personal journal of that journey (see file). They are both buried in the very old cemetery in downtown Boston.

Hepzibah's half-brother Aaron Cooke (by her mother's first marriage) married her half-sister Mary Ford (by her father's first marriage), another interesting twist for this family.

Death: No official rec. found. Will was probated in Hadley, therefore that presumed to be place of death. The last paragraph in the will refers to an "addition to the will of Hepzibah Marsh." It is an agreement on land given by "ye well beloved Mother Marsh", who was deceased May 28, 1683. (Prob. Rec. Reel 1.1 Northampton, MA, Registry of Probate Books, pg 234-235. Forbes Library)

Source:Coleman pg 39-also source of all information on children. Also confirmed by Whittemore; Siemiatkoski pp 7 & 11; & by IGI file attributed to Neil Rutman. (See Gen. Data Note #)

Named for her mother.

Marriage: Northampton V.R. Marriages Vol. I p 99

Her headstone in the Old Cemetery reads " Hepzibah Dewey, wife of Josiah Dewey, daughter of Richard Lyman, age 88" (Hale Inscriptions---Lebanon---pg 80)

CHILD 2 - Richard LYMAN III-917

Source: Coleman, pg 57; Siemiatkoski p 7

Eldest son, named for father & grandfather

Marriage: Northampton VR Marriages Vol I p 102

Named Executor of his mother's will in 1684. Deeded a number of parcels of land, among them "the home & homestead in Great Rainebow." (See file for complete Lyman notes, Part 2, p 27)

With John Strong Sr & Preserved Clapp & their wives (Abigail, Sarah & Elizabeth) sold land in Northampton 29 Apr 1685. With his wife Elizabeth sold more land in Northampton 20 Mar 1695

Resided in Northampton until 1696, when he moved to Lebanon, Ct., where his last child was born and some of his descendants continued to live at least until 1871 (date of Coleman's book). Was deeded an allotment of the "Five Mile

WIFE Hepzibah FORD-928 Yr of Birth 1625

Purchase" in Lebanon which was the beginning of that settlement. He subdivided this among his children, some of whom settled in the town & some in "the Crank", now Columbia.

CHILD 3 - Thomas LYMAN Dea.-931

Source: Coleman p 197; Siemiatkoski p 13; NEHGS Corbin Collection, Reel #82-54, index card #5624.

No official doc. for his birth found to date

Named for his maternal grandfather, Thomas Ford.

In early records his name is often spelled "Limon".(Limon on three of his children's birth registrations, Lyman on the other three)

Moved with his parents from Windsor to Northampton in 1656, when he was about seven years old. Was elected a freeman in 1690.

Marriage: (Northampton VR Vol. I p 103) Transcript is incomplete, gives only their names, as Thomas Limon & Ruth Baker. (Note at bottom of page says the marriage date must be considered to be "about 1678) At the time of his marriage to Ruth Holton Baker, he was 29 & she was 38, a widow with six children.

He & his wife removed to Durham, Ct between Sep 1709 & Mar 1710 (based on Hampshire CO land rec.) when he was about 60 years old & she must have been over 70 !!!) with "a part of his children", where they were among the first settlers. (And which, according to Coleman, "for three or four generations thereafter, was the headquarters of this branch of the Lyman family.")

He was one of the first deacons of the newly founded Durhamand a representative of the town for several sessions. They were commended to the Rev. Nathaniel Chauncey at the organization of the Durham Church by the Rev. Solomon Stoddard of the Northampton Church, 30 Dec 1710.

RESEARCH QUESTIONS:

1) Find his birth rec. in Windsor--"abt 1649"

2) Land records(aft 170-10) &/or will(1725)& other probate rec. for him (Not in Durham)

3) Church records him &/or family members:

1649-1708 (Northampton)

1708-1725 (Durham)

5) Find/photograph his grave (Lebanon??--more likely Durham)

CHILD 4 - Elisabeth (Eliza) LYMAN-932

Doc: Coleman; Siemiatkoski p 7

HUSBAND Richard LYMAN-927 Yr of Birth 1617
WIFE Hepzibah FORD-928 Yr of Birth 1625

Probably named for her maternal grandmother Elizabeth Chard Cooke Ford

Spear & Coleman designate her "Eliza"; Whittemore, Moore & Stevens-Miller give her name as Elizabeth

Marriage: Northampton VR Marriages Vol I p 102

Death: Northampton VR Death Vol I p 135

CHILD 5 - Sarah LYMAN-930

Source: Coleman p 39,50; WHITTEMORE(marriage); Pvt. rec. Hampshire MA (Pynchon), Northhampton, p. 142 (says Sarah Lyman, dau of Hepzibah Marsh) Siemiatkoski p 7 confirms above, says she "married her step-brother"

Probably named for paternal grandmother Sarah Osborn Lyman

Marriage: Northampton VR Marriages Vol I p 100

Provided for in her mother's will with gift of money directly & through her brother John. (See Lyman Notes Patr 2, p 27)

Death not in Northampton rec.

CHILD 6 - John LYMAN-933

Doc: Coleman p 220; Siemiatkoski p 7

May have been named for paternal uncle John Lyman

Marriage not in N'hampton rec.

According to Coleman "Settled in Hockanum, Hadley, Mass. "

Deeded land in his mother's will, provided he pay specified sums to his sisters Sarah & Lydia. (See Lyman Notes Pt 2, p 27)

CHILD 7 - Johannah LYMAN-934

Doc: Northampton V.R.:VOL 1: birth p 5; death p 132 (First Lyman child to be named in birth rec.)

May have been named for her maternal aunt Joanna Ford Clapp

CHILD 8 - Hannah LYMAN-935

Source: Northampton V.R. VOL I: Birth p 5

May have been named for her maternal aunt Hannah Ford, who died in infancy before the Fords emigrated to America.

Hannah played a minor part in the early history of Northampton. In the HISTORY OF NORTHAMPTON, under a chapter entitled "Way of Living-Enforcing Sumptuary Laws", p 291, is the following account: At a subsequent meeting of the court 'Hannah Lyman of Northampton, was presented for wearing silk in a flaunting manner, in an offensive way and garbe, not only before, but when she stood presented, not only in ordinary times, but in extraordinary times, when the people of God were falling before the Lord in public humiliation in respect of the heavy judgments and calamities that were threatening to come upon us.' She was sentenced to pay a fine of 10s. Hannah seems to have been an offender of more than ordinary boldness, ready to show off her fine attire, not only in the meeting house on Sundays and fast days, but in the faces of the Justices when they were trying her case. She was the daughter of Richard Lyman, deceased, and about sixteen years of age. At the March court, forty-five persons from different towns in the county were fined for wearing silk in a 'flaunting manner', and for wearing long hair. Of these, eighteen were residents of Springfield, five of Westfield, nine of Hadley, and thirteen of Hatfield. Eleven were married women, fiifteen unmarried, and nineteen young men."

HUSBAND Richard LYMAN-927 Yr of Birth 1617
WIFE Hepzibah FORD-928 Yr of Birth 1625

Marriage not rec in N'hampton

Her husband was the brother of her sister Eliza's husband Joshua.

HUSBAND Thomas CHARDE Mr.-4121 Yr of Birth 1538
WIFE Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - Thomas CHARDE Mr.-4121

Doc: HISTORY OF BRIDPORT names Thomas Charde as a representative to Parliament for Bridport in 1558 under Queen Elizabeth I. There is a long record of Chardes who held public office. Several of them served in Parliament: First, in x 1535, William Charde under Henry VIII (1509-1547); then Thomas Charde under ~~Mary~~ o Mary I (1552-1558). Numerous Chardes also were bailiffs: Thomas Cherd(sic) under Edward IV in 1461; Thomas Chard & William Charde under Henry VII in 1485; William & Thomas Chard under Henry VIII in 1509; Thomas Charde under Edward VI 1547; Thomas Charde under Mary I 1553; Thomas Charde under Elizabeth I 1558; John Charde & Richard Charde under James I 1603.(The years given denote the year each was elected to the office. The records were compiled from the Domebook. (See file)

x The first Bridport Parish Register of St. Mary's Church 1600-38 has many references to Chardes in the bpt., marriages & burials.

Ms. Burrell was quite certain that, given the use of the title "Mr." for Elizabeth Charde's father, her family was of the gentry, and this man--Thomas Charde--is her logical ancestor. This supposition is bolstered by the paucity of Chardes on record in the entire area searched by RKF, other than in Bridport. For all these reasons, we have assigned the role of father in this family to Thomas Charde. It is also very possible that Mr. Thomas Charde is the brother of Mr. John Charde, not his father; and that Thomas Charde, Jr., is HIS son, not the son of Mr. John Charde. This tentative family structure needs more research. clarify

WIFE -

CHILD 1 - John CHARDE Mr.-5716

Doc: Bridport First Parish Register of St. Mary's Church 1600-38, Dorset Co Archives transcript; Mary & John Search Series Vol. 18, pp 52 & 37; Maude Pinney Kuhns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p 24

Listed by title "Mr." in Netherbury Parish Register, birth of a child in 1588; also in Bridport Parish Register for burials. Indicates substantial status.

He is probably the John Charde who is named in the List of Representatives in Parliament for the Bridport borough under King James I in 1603. (See HISTORY OF DORSET, pp9-13, from Hutchens, 3rd Ed. (1863)

This putative family has been constructed based on analysis of transcripts at the Dorset County Archives, and at the Bridport Museum, of parish registers of the villages of Bridport, Netherbury, Dorchester, Powerstock, Piddlehinton, Symondsbury and Thorncombe. Some of the records begin as early as 1586; some x extend until 1638. (The village of Chard is in the county of Somerset. Those records were not examined.)

No Chardes at all were listed during those years in Symondsbury, Piddlehinton, or Powerstock. There are no Chardes in the Dorchester burial records 1653-1722 or the marriage records 1560-1700. The (Dorchester christening records for that period were not available)

There are only three references to Chardes in those years in Thorncombe: one is the record of the marriage in 1610 of Elizabeth Charde to Aaron Cooke; the second is the marriage of her brother Thomas 22 Jan 1618 to Joan Pinson; the third is the marriage of another Elizabeth Chard 2 Jan 1630 to Stephen Lane. (This latter may be a niece of Elizabeth Charde Cooke Ford.)

The only two Charde names found in the Netherbury records are the christening records for Elizabeth Charde in 1586 and, in 1588, that of "Mr Chardes 's chillde."

The Bridport First Parish Register of St Mary's Church 1600-38 has many references to Chardes in the baptisms, marriages and burials. All but one of these (43 ref. in all) seem to fit well within the constellation of this putative family (see RIN for Margaret Charde)

In all the records examined. only Mr. John Charde the elder is given the title "Mr." That use is consistent throughout all the recorded entries until his death in 1629.

All of this tentative family structure needs further research.

CHILD 2 - Thomas CHARDE Jr.-5752
Doc: Bridport BURIALS Register 1600-38 (transcript)

Rationale for putting this person in this family is based on the following:

1. So few Chardes in any nearby towns, those found seem most likely to be related

2. All related baptisms in Bridport register are attributed to "Thomas Charde junior" or "Thomas Charde the younger"

3. He is titled "Mr." for the first time in the parish records the year after the death of Mr. John Charde, which suggests that a title might have been passed on to him.

4. Burial register (same dates) lists, in order, burials of : 1) Amie w. of Mr Thomas Charde junior (1629); 2) Mr Thomas Charde; &, 3) Sara w. of Thomas Chard. This last burial proves Thomas Charde was still alive at the time of her death. (or she would have been listed as "wid.")

Are 2+3 Thomas, the father?

All of this supposition needs further research

CHILD 3 - Margaret CHARDE-5806
Doc: Par Reg St. Mary's Church, Bridport, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Hers is the only burial record of a Charde female who is not identified as "d. (daughter) of....." or "w. (wife) of......or "wid.". Therefore, working assumption is that she died as an adult unmarried woman, possibly of this family. Needs further research.

HUSBAND	Thomas CHARDE Mr.-4121	Yr of Birth 1538
WIFE		Yr of Birth

CHILD 4 - William CHARDE-4085

Doc: Par Reg St Mary's Church, Bridport, Dorset Co. Archives, England

Bpt. & burial record for his son at St. Mary's Church strengthens case that he is a member of this family. Needs further research.

HUSBAND John CHARDE Mr.-5716 Yr of Birth
WIFE Joan-5717 Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - John CHARDE Mr.-5716

Doc: Bridport First Parish Register of St. Mary's Church 1600-38, Dorset Co Archives transcript; Mary & John Search Series Vol. 18, pp 52 & 37; Maude Pinney Kuhns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p 24

Listed by title "Mr." in Netherbury Parish Register, birth of a child in 1588; also in Bridport Parish Register for burials. Indicates substantial status.

He is probably the John Charde who is named in the List of Representatives in Parliament for the Bridport borough under King James I in 1603. (See HISTORY OF DORSET, pp9-13, from Hutchens, 3rd Ed. (1863)

This putative family has been constructed based on analysis of transcripts at the Dorset County Archives, and at the Bridport Museum, of parish registers of the villages of Bridport, Netherbury, Dorchester, Powerstock, Piddlehinton, Symondsbury and Thorncombe. Some of the records begin as early as 1586; some exrend until 1638. (The village of Chard is in the county of Somerset. Those records were not examined.)

No Chardes at all were listed during those years in Symondsbury, Piddlehinton, or Powerstock. There are no Chardes in the Dorchester burial records 1653-1722 or the marriage records 1560-1700. The (Dorchester christening records for that period were not available)

There are only three references to Chardes in those years in Thorncombe: one is the record of the marriage in 1610 of Elizabeth Charde to Aaron Cooke; the second is the marriage of her brother Thomas 22 Jan 1618 to Joan Pinson; the third is the marriage of another Elizabeth Chard 2 Jan 1630 to Stephen Lane. (This latter may be a niece of Elizabeth Charde Cooke Ford.)

The only two Charde names found in the Netherbury records are the christening records for Elizabeth Charde in 1586 and, in 1588, that of "Mr Chardes 's chillde."

The Bridport First Parish Register of St Mary's Church 1600-38 has many references to Chardes in the baptisms, marriages and burials. All but one of these (43 ref. in all) seem to fit well within the constellation of this putative family (see RIN for Margaret Charde)

In all the records examined. only Mr. John Charde the elder is given the title "Mr." That use is consistent throughout all the recorded entries until his death in 1629.

All of this tentative family structure needs further research.

WIFE - Joan-5717

Doc: Bridport Parish Register for BURIALS, First Parish Register for St. Mary's Church, 1600-38, Dorset CO Archives (transcript)

She is identified in the burial entry as "Mistress Joan Chard w. of Mr. John

HUSBAND	John CHARDE Mr.-5716	Yr of Birth
WIFE	Joan-5717	Yr of Birth

Chard". The titles suggest their signifigant standing in the community.

CHILD 1 - Thomas CHARDE-3941

Doc: Par Reg Thorncombe BAPTISMS & MARRIAGES, Dorset Co. Archives

Placement in this family is speculative, needs further research

CHILD 2 - John CHARDE Junior-5720

Doc: Bridport Parish Register BAPTISMS, MARRIAGES & BURIALS, 1600-38, Dorset CO Archives transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18, pp 55 & 37

CHILD 3 - Constance CHARDE-5722

Doc: Bridport Parish Register MARRIAGES, 1600-38, Dorset Co Archives transcript

Only record of her is her marriage

CHILD 4 - Hellen CHARDE-5751

Doc: Bridport BURIAL Register 1600-38 (transcript)

Burial record states "1613 1 Oct Hellen d. of Mr. John Charde"

CHILD 5 - Elizabeth Charde (COOKE)-4360

Doc: Netherbury Parish Register, Baptisms & Burials, Vol I, Trancsript Dorset Co.Archives; Mary & John Search Series Vol. 18, pp 52 & 37; Maude Pinney Kunns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p 24; Siemiatkoski REFLECTIONS ON THE MARY & JOHN TOUR p 67

Her christening is on the first page of "Christings" recorded in the Netherbury register. The title page gives the years of inclusion as 1592-1691, but there are three small typed sheets inserted at the beginning of the register with bpt. from 1586-1588. (See file for xerox copy) Hers is on the first page & reads "Elisebethe CHARD the x of Julie." In 1588, another child was recorded on the next small page as "Mr CHARDE'S chillde the xvth of September."

There are no other Charde's listed later in any part of the Netherbury Reg. The Bridport Registers give evidence that the family moved there some time after these two births. In the absence of bpt. records for any other Chardes, in any of the town registers examined (i.e. Powerstock, Dorchester, Symondsbury, Piddlehinton) it is likely that Elizabeth's other possible siblings were born before her, i.e., before the start of available records.

Elizabeth appeared once in Thorncombe records, when she married ~~Aaron Cooke~~ Aaron Cooke there in 1610. Those records list two other Charde weddings (one to her brother Thomas; one to a much younger Elizabeth who may have been her niece). No other Chardes are found in either Thorncombe's marriage or burial registers. Elizabeth & Aaron's first child was born in Bridport in 1611, as was their second child, Aaron, Jr. in 1614. Both little Elizabeth & Aaron, her father were buried in Bridport in 1614. The family obviously moved there shortly after their wedding.(Thorncombe is 10 miles NW of Bridport)

WIFE Joan-5717 Yr of Birth

According to the M&J Search Series....."Chard does not appear to be a very common name in Dorset and the few Chard entries in the IGI records of that county appear to be related to...(her)." However, the Director of the Bridport Museum indicated that there were a number of Chardes in Bridport and, as stated above, the Bridport Registers bear this out. Needs more research. (Numerous other ref. to Chardes in wills & official rec. in Dorset are detailed in M&J Series Vol 18, pp 38-39)

Elizabeth is said to be the mother of more Americans than any other woman. Her children all formed large families: Cookes, Strongs, Clapps, Lymans, & many of the Marshes all descend from this woman. In her pamphlet REFLECTIONS ON THE MARY AND JOHN II TOUR 1988, Donna Siemiatkoski notes "The implications of the influence of this woman on the life of the new nation are staggering, as her descendants spread from the Connecticut Valley westward from early times and seeded the life of the nation in every field of endeavor."

Death: Windsor VR (Vol 1 p 44): The wife of Thomas Ford was buried April 18, 1643 1613. (Her husband and most of her family removed to Northampton, Mass, in 1654.

Other marriages:
2 Sep 1610 Aaron COOKE-4688 MRIN: 1302

CHILD 6 - Katherine CHARDE-5718

Doc: Bridport Parish Register MARRIAGES, 1600-38, Dorset CO Archives transcript; M&J Search Series Vol 18, pp 52 & 37

May not be child born on date assigned to her. Bpt. rec. states only "Mr. Charde's chillde", not name or sex

Not certain of birth order. Need to search rec. for children under name Paine

Marriage: Bridport Par Reg

Burial: "Mistress Katherine Payne widow".

WIFE	Amie-5760	Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - Thomas CHARDE Jr.-5752

Doc: Bridport BURIALS Register 1600-38 (transcript)

Rationale for putting this person in this family is based on the following:

1. So few Chardes in any nearby towns, those found seem most likely to be related

2. All related baptisms in Bridport register are attributed to "Thomas Charde junior" or "Thomas Charde the younger"

3. He is titled "Mr." for the first time in the parish records the year after the death of Mr. John Charde, which suggests that a title might have been passed on to him.

4. Burial register (same dates) lists, in order, burials of : 1) Amie w. of Mr Thomas Charde junior (1629); 2) Mr Thomas Charde; &, 3) Sara w. of Thomas Chard. This last burial proves Thomas Charde was still alive at the time of her death. (or she would have been listed as "wid.")

All of this supposition needs further research

Doc: Bridport registers for MARRIAGES & BURIALS 1600-38 (transcript)

The register is rather confusing, as it shows that Mr.Thomas Charde junior had a child in 1610, just 2 years after the wedding of Thomas & Sara. The two Thomases may have been cousins, or an uncle & a nephew, or some other relationship other than father & son. The custom of those days in England was that the younger of two men by the same name in the same village was called "junior" or "the younger", even if there was no relationship.

? ? seems proper!

HUSBAND Aaron COOKE-4688 Yr of Birth 1585
WIFE Elizabeth Charde (COOKE)-4360 Yr of Birth

HUSBAND - Aaron COOKE-4688

Doc: Par Reg transcript St. Mary's Parish Church, Bridport, Dorset Co. Archives, Dorchester, England; also M&J Series Vol 18, p 37

His father may have been William Cooke. In the will of John Jones, merchant of Lyme Regis, Dorset, dated 30 Sept. 1588 and proved 12 May 1590 (PCC 31 Drury), is a William Cooke of Thorncombe, Devon (now Dorset). Also, there was a William Cooke who was buried 7 June 1611 at Bridport, Dorset when Aaron's family lived there.

His occupation was as a Joiner (carpenter), according to his burial record.

WIFE - Elizabeth Charde (COOKE)-4360

Doc: Netherbury Parish Register, Baptisms & Burials, Vol I, Trancsript Dorset Co.Archives; Mary & John Search Series Vol. 18, pp 52 & 37; Maude Pinney Kunns: THE MARY AND JOHN, Chas. E. Tuttle Co. 1971 p 24; Siemiatkoski REFLECTIONS ON THE MARY & JOHN TOUR p 67

The title page of "Christings" in the earliest Netherbury register gives the years of inclusion as 1592-1691, but there are three small typed sheets inserted at the beginning of the register with baptisms from 1586-1588. These pages are titled "from Wren Hall transcripts" and are explained by a note hand written on the title page, which states "In 1970 I got copies of transcripts for years 1585-8 from the Archives, Salisbury. These copies are in Netherbury safe. My readings of them typed overleaf." The signature is hard to read, possibly P.D.May. Beneath this he notes numerous years for which transcripts exist, naming "Salisbury transcripts at Wren Hall Archives, the Close." Much more research should be done on this project! (See file for xerox copy)

Her baptism is recorded on the first of these pages and reads "Elisebethe CHARD the x of Julie." In 1588, on the second small page, another child was recorded as "Mr CHARDE'S chillde the xvth of September."

There are no other Charde's listed later in any part of the Netherbury Reg. [It should be noted that MARRIAGE records for Netherbury were not available at the Dorset Co. Archives. The title page states "The marriages will be found in Vol VII of Phillimore's Dorset Registers."]

The Bridport Registers give evidence that the family moved there some time after these two births. In the absence of bpt. records for any other Chardes, in any of the town registers examined (i.e. Dorchester, Piddlehinton, Symondsbury, Thorncombe) it is likely that Elizabeth's other possible siblings were born before her, i.e., before the start of records available during RKF search.

Elizabeth appeared once in Thorncombe records, when she married Aaron Cooke Cooke there in 1610. (See file for xerox copy) Those records list two other Charde weddings)one to her brother Thomas; one to a much younger Elizabeth who may have been her niece). No Chardes are found in either Thorncombe's marriage or burial registers. Elizabeth & Aaron's first child was born in Bridport in 1611, as was their second child, Aaron, Jr. in 1614. Both little Elizabeth & Aaron, her father were buried in Bridport in 1614. The family obviously moved there shortly after their wedding.(Thorncombe is 10 miles NW of Bridport)

According to the M&J Search Series....."Chard does not appear to be a very common name in Dorset and the few Chard entries in the IGI records of that county appear to be related to...(her)." However, the Director of the Bridport Museum indicated that there were a number of Chardes in Bridport and, as stated above, the Bridport Registers starting in 1600 bear this out. Needs more research. (Numerous other ref. to Chardes in wills & official rec. in Dorset are detailed in M&J Series Vol 18, pp 38-39)

Elizabeth is said to be the mother of more Americans than any other woman. Her children all formed large families: Cookes, Strongs, Clapps, Lymans, & many of the Marshes all descend from this woman. In her pamphlet REFLECTIONS ON THE MARY AND JOHN II TOUR 1988, Donna Siemiatkoski notes "The implications of the influence of this woman on the life of the new nation are staggering, as her descendants spread from the Connecticut Valley westward from early times and seeded the life of the nation in every field of endeavor."

Death: Windsor VR (Vol 1 p 44): The wife of Thomas Ford was buried April 18, 1613. (Her husband and most of her family removed to Northampton, Mass, in 1654.

After his father's death & his mother's marriage to Thomas Ford (when he was 2), he grew up in that family, living in Bridport, Dorset, until abt. 1621, then in Dorchester, Dorset, until 1630.

He came to America at the age of 16 on the MARY & JOHN, sailing from Plymouth on 20 Mar & landing at Nantasket on 30 May. He lived in Dorchester until 1635, when the party from Dorchester migrated to the new village of Windsor, CT. By this time, at the age of 21, he was an adult and considered a founder of Windsor, along with his step-father & the other household heads. (He is listed as such on the memorial in the center of the Windsor Palisado)

He moved with the Fords and other close friends to Northampton, in 1654.

He was one of the first landowners in what became Simsbury, CT, along with his father-in-law, Thomas Ford. The two of them were the major landowners there in the earliest years of the town. Indeed, Simsbury is considered likely to have taken its name from Symondsbury, the village in Dorset, England, where Fords & Chards were thought to have lived. An interesting foot-note to this early

He had seven children and at least 37 grandchildren by his first two wives.

After the death of his second wife, he married twice again, to (3) Elizabeth Nash, 2 Dec 1676, New Haven, CT, dau of John Nash & Elizabeth (prob. Tapp); & (4) Rebecca Foote, dau. of Nathaniel Foote & Elizabeth Deming, and widow of Philip Smith. There were no issue of these two marriages.

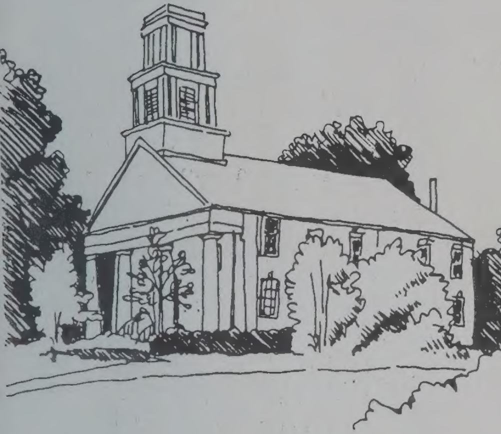
WELCOME



THE FIRST CHURCH IN WINDSOR
UNITED CHURCH OF CHRIST

107 Palisado Avenue
Windsor, CT 06095
688-7229

ABOUT OUR CHURCH

First Church celebrated its 350th anniversary in 1980. Founded in Plymouth, England on March 20, 1630 with John Warham as a minister and John Maverick as lecturer, that first 140-member congregation set sail on the "Mary and John" for Dorchester, Massachusetts and a new life. Under the leadership of John Warham, most of the group moved to Windsor in 1635 where the church grew to be an integral part of the religious, social, and political life of the community.

While steeped in history, First Church is today a vital and diverse Christian family. We feel strengthened by your presence with us, and hope that you feel the genuine warmth of our welcome.

Thank you for coming. We hope you'll come again.

To help us minister to you, please check the appropriate box(es) below.

Researchers: Tom Mor, Tom Maddock, Paul Presswell, Freda Simpson

THE TAPESTRY

is England's Bayeux Tapestry and part of an entirely voluntary project begun in 1976. Eventually there will be a set of 23 panels each 11ft. x 4ft. joined to form a panorama. The embroidery is and has been, carried out by dedicated teams of volunteer tapissiers in Plymouth, Ivybridge, Totnes, Chillington, Exeter, Bideford, Tiverton and Nomansland in Devon and Lyme Regis in Dorset. Emu Wools have generously given the majority of the wool. The Tapestry concerns the period 1583 – 1642 and the major voyages of exploration and colonisation of America, Bermuda, Guiana and Newfoundland and depicts the result of much original research now kept on file in the New World Tapestry Archives.

COVER PICTURE 1624 / 30 PANEL

Scene One: England 1624. Rev. John White, Puritan Vicar at Dorchester, Dorset sets up the Dorchester Company to start a colony in New England.

Scene Two: England 1625. The congregations of Rev. John Warham and Rev John Maverick in Exeter become interested in emigration.

Scene Three: England 1625. King James I dies. Charles I crowned 1626. John Endicott from Chagford sails for America on the 'Abigail' 1628.

Scene Four: New England 1629. Endicott chops down the maypole, cuts young men's long hair, flogs or hangs dissenters.

Scene Five: New England 1630. John White's Dorchester Company pioneers leave Plymouth and sail to New England.

Ruth King Freymann

In recognition of your interest in and donation to our Project, we are pleased to record your name in the Stitch Book at Lyme Regis Tapestry Centre and to confirm that you are hereby appointed a

PATRON OF THE NEW WORLD TAPESTRY

We thank you for your generosity and hope that you will come again to see the progress of the embroidery on the 1624-30 panel, on which you have contributed a stitch in history.

The stitch is located on

Rev John Warham

at Windsor Locks, CT

and was made on 24th day of Sept in the year 1993

1. FYLER HOUSE——

Fyler House was purchased in 1925, four years after the Society was organized. This property deeded to Lieutenant Walter Fyler, February 6, 1640, (see framed copy in house) for his service in the Pequot War. The earliest part of the house was built before 1640 and is one of the oldest surviving frame houses in Connecticut.

2. OLD BURYING GROUND——

The earliest graves were located inside the Palisado. Today's surviving stones in the expanded area to the west include gravestones of Roger Wolcott—only Connecticut governor from Windsor, Oliver Ellsworth—third Chief Justice of the U.S. and the 1644 Ephraim Huit stone, the oldest surviving original gravestone in Connecticut.

3. FOURTH MEETING HOUSE/ FIRST CHURCH——

The Fourth Meeting House was built in 1794. The reunion of the north and south societies resulted in the choice of this building site after completion of the 1792 bridge at today's location. This building has two cornerstones, 1757 and 1794. The older date is from the previous meeting house that was located at the northern end of the present Broad Street Green. Chief Justice Oliver Ellsworth was one of the members of the building committee. In 1844, major remodeling was done on the interior and exterior of the building.

4. FOUNDERS MONUMENT/ PALISADO GREEN——

This monument was erected in 1930 on the site of the 1639/40 first Meeting House. It was dedicated to the memory of the Early Founding Families of Windsor and the First Congregational Church, organized in 1630 in Plymouth, England just before departing for America.

BRIEF HISTORY OF CHARDSTOCK

The name Chardstock probably derives from the Saxon 'Ceart-renn' meaning 'house on rough land'; and 'Stock', belonging to Chard. Bronze Age stone hut circles have been found on Bewley Down, and Roman tiles at Woonton Farm. The village is a mile from the Roman Fosseway at Tytherleigh, and there was probably a Saxon settlement in or near the village.

At Domesday, the Bishop of Salisbury held "Cerdestoche and two knights Walter and William of him". There were two mills and land to support 45 tenants and 21 smallholders (farmers). The Bishop had a hunting park and documents of 1432 refer to the appointment of a park-keeper at 2p a day, and a robe or six shillings 8p each Christmas. In 1336, the Bishop was granted a Royal License to crenellate or fortify the Manor House. Permission to hold a market in the Village was granted in 1218, and for a fair in 1440.

In Medieval times, villagers worked for the Manor, farmed for the Bishop or his tenants by a Steward. There is some evidence of a strip field system, but all the villagers' cottages have disappeared, and only the higher status houses remain, eg. the George Inn and the Tytherleigh Cott. From Tudor times, the villagers were subject to the Manor Court, which controlled tenancies, applied taxes, and acted as Magistrates e.g. Thomas Strong was fined four pence in 1620, for not cleaning debris from the highway.

In the 12th Century, Gilbert de Percy gave land, known as a Prebend, to Salisbury Cathedral to support a priest. Portions of the church date from 1220, and records of priests go back to 1313. The Church was substantially rebuilt in 1863/64. A charity school existed in 1712, and on part of the prebend land opposite the church, the present school was built in 1839. In the 1870s following the building of extensions housing the National Industrial School and St. Andrew's College, there was a total of 196 pupils from all over England and abroad. During the time of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, orphan children from various parts of the country, were housed in a building called the 'Barracks', and used as 'skivvies' at the College.

Chardstock has always been a farming community; (some farms can be traced back to the time of Henry 11, 1154 - 1189) but small industries existed; - medieval ironwork, the manufacture of cloth, paper, clocks, leatherwork, snuff, and those associated with agriculture - blacksmiths, wheelwrights, and millers.

At the time of the Commonwealth, the Manor was taken from the Bishops of Salisbury, in 1646 and sold for £5,242.00. It was restored to the Church in 1655 when the Bishop leased it to John Henley of Southampton. Lord Henley bought the Manor from the church in 1873, and later sold it in lots in 1915, which resulted in the Manor Estate being broken up.

PLACES OF INTEREST

1. Bewley Down - Evidence of Bronze age stone hut circles.

2. Mill - Probably one of the Domesday Mills. It was water powered and has its own wooden machinery still in situ (now a house).

3. St Andrews School - Founded in 1839 by Revd. C. Woodcock. An Industrial School added in 1849 and St. Andrew's College opened in 1858. The College was transferred to Salisbury in 1874.

4. The George Inn - Medieval open hall house. Possibly the Church House and once known as the Dolphin. It really is haunted! (See advert over page).

5. Strongs Cottage - Two storey house built in the 16th Century. Home of Thomas Strong, Tailor. Has been a farmhouse, a bakery (1850), and a village shop.

6. Tytherleigh Cott - Medieval open hall house with upstairs fireplace dated 1594. Was a Beer house known as New inn.

7. The Tytherleigh Arms - One of the oldest of the Chardstock Inns. Once known as the Kings Arms.

8. Kit Bridge - One of the two fords across the River Kit. The other ford was at Mill. Both have interesting footbridges.

9. St Andrew's Church - Large cruciform building in Victorian Decorated style of architecture. The South aisle, probably 15th Century, is all that remains of the original church.

See Map Reference

10. Workhouse - Built in 1789 to house the poor and infirm, closed in 1837 and the inmates transferred to Axminster. Now private houses.

11. Tatworth - House in South Chard called the Manor House once the property of the Deanes who married into the Strong family.

12. Chard Baptists Church - Original building associated with George Strong, clothier of Chard in 1700, no longer exists.

13. Chard Museum - Local History includes the Baptists, Stringfellow who was the pioneer of powered flights, the Gillingham collection of artificial limbs, lace making and agricultural machinery.

14. Chubbs and Alston Farm - Two other properties know in early records as being associated with the Strong family.

15. Parks - Part of the Bishop's Hunting Park.

16. Wambrook - Once part of Chardstock. See Village Stocks in Churchyard.

17. Axminster - St Mary's Church founded 786. It is the burial place of Saxon Prince Cyneard. The Manor was held by the King at Domesday, and a weekly market charter was granted in 1204. The Duke of Marlborough, ancester of Sir Winston Churchill, was born at Trill, near Axminster in 1650, and baptised in St Mary's Church. There is a Quaker Meeting House nearby at Membury dating from the 16th century.

STRONG'S COTTAGE

'Strongs Cottage', was built by George Strong, grandfather of Elder John Strong in the late 1500's. This cottage, which has been uninhabited for a number of years, is virtually unique, as apart from some early nineteenth century alterations; (the building of a commercial bakery within the cottage, and the creation of a shop front, which in themselves are important features of the evolution of the cottage), It remains substantially unaltered since the day it was built. It is however, in urgent need of extensive restoration (the whole of the roof structure needs re-building and the walls need urgent attention).

The concept of restoring the cottage to its original form, orginated from a visit by S.F.A.A. members, lead by Jarvis Strong in May of 1992, when he met with the owners and their architect, John Watts, of Olorun Partnership Ltd; and owes much to the enthusiasm and co-operation of those involved locally in England and the S.F.A.A. in the U.S.A.

This presents an unusual opportunity to restore the cottage, maintaining all its character and its original features, through repairs using the techniques of the period, or where necessary identical replacement of irrepairable features.

An important feature of the project, is that on completion, part of the cottage will house a local history museum, enabling visitors to explore not only the interesting features of the cottage itself, but the wealth of history in the area; and enjoy having tea in the old bakery or garden of the cottage.

Axminster — the Home

AXMINSTER CARPETS LIMITED
AXMINSTER, DEVON, EX13 5PQ

The name Axminster has come to stand for all the very best in carpeting - natural materials woven by craftsmen using traditional methods and patterns to produce a carpet of the highest possible standard.

In 1754 a cloth weaver from the town, one Thomas Whitty, was in London visiting the warehouse of an ironmonger where by chance he was shown 'one of the best and largest Turkey carpets in England'. This sumptuous fabric made a deep impression on the pious weaver, already somewhat of an expert in his craft. What intrigued and puzzled him was how a carpet could be woven in such a way, in such great breadth, and without a seam in it.

He must have been a man who relished a challenge, because the problem refused to go away. It preyed upon his mind, until one morning he awoke in his Axminster home convinced he had the solution.

The 25th of April 1755 was a Fair Day. That meant his weavers were on holiday, so Thomas tried out his ideas on an idle loom.

After hours of toil, he managed to produce a small piece of carpeting; about eight inches square, that closely resembled the elusive Turkey Carpet.

So the Axminster carpet industry was born - the results of expert knowledge, stubborn dedication, and a little luck. The gentry were soon anxious to buy Whitty's carpets, demand grew and grew and his factory firmly established and flourished under his sons and grandsons.

In those days manufacture was so laborious that completion was heralded by a peal of bells from Axminster Church, where each carpet was carried in procession to be blessed before being despatched to another fine home.

The story of the modern Axminster Carpet factory owes everything to another extraordinary man, Harry Dutfield.

Born in 1908, the son of a carpet designer, he was brought up in the town of Kidderminster. At the age of 17, a day came which was to shape his future. For some time, his father had been wrestling with the problem of making a reversible rug on a small homemade loom. In an effort to please him Harry decided to have a try. By the time his father returned from work, Harry had produced a small piece of reversible rug. His reward was £5! The decision to make carpet manufacturing his life followed readily.

Another providencial encounter was to shape the history of Axminster Carpets. During a holiday trip to the West Country in 1936, Harry learnt by chance and to his surprise that carpets were no longer made in Axminster. He seized the opportunity and in 1937 along with two colleagues and three or four weavers from Kidderminster, Axminster Carpets Limited was started with the support of the towns-people and businessmen of Axminster.

Harry's son Simon joined the company having gained experience with other carpet manufacturers and it has always been his policy to modernise and re-invest in new looms and machinery. In an ever changing world, Axminster Carpets have preferred to retain the traditional craft method of manufacturing. Now aided by the most modern technology, the company continues to maintain the standards of quality and service established by Thomas Whitty and Harry Dutfield.

DESCENDANTS OF THE FOUNDERS OF ANCIENT WINDSOR

NEWSLETTER

Volume XXVI, Number 1 Established in 1983 Fall 2008

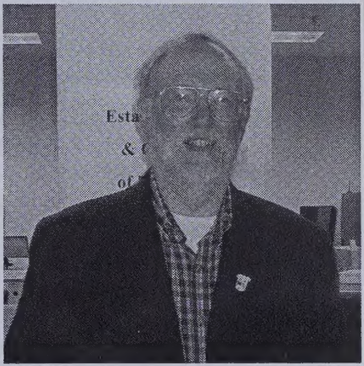
CELEBRATING WINDSOR'S 375th BIRTHDAY

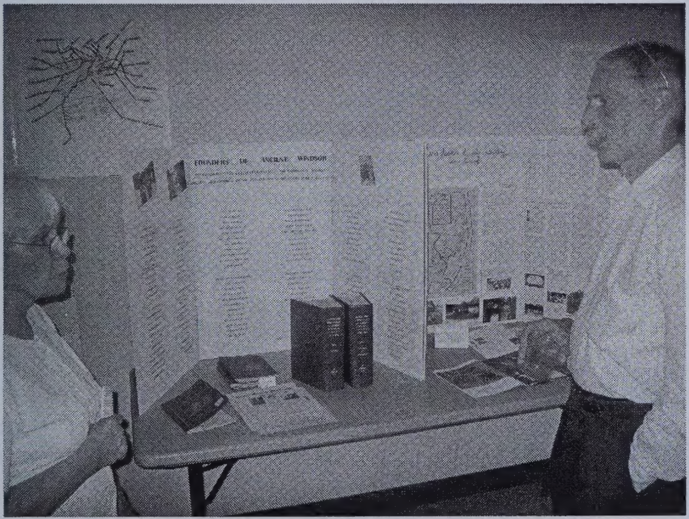
The year-long schedule of activities organized to celebrate Windsor's 375th birthday intensified during the summer of 2008, culminating with a number of special activities planned by and for the Descendants of the Founders of Ancient Windsor.

On Saturday July 12, from 10:00 a.m. to noon, DFAW Board member Ruth Shapleigh-Brown (left) led a group of about 30 (including one person from New Jersey) on a guided tour of Windsor's historic Palisado Cemetery. Emphasis was on gravestone carvers, symbolism, and stone preservation and cleaning methods, using as examples gravestones of Windsor's early families.

Beginning September 3, DFAW's Genealogist, Edwin Strickland, conducted a series on "Exploring Family History" at the Windsor Historical Society, showing how vital records, the census, and family artifacts can help build family trees.



As part of the 375th anniversary celebration, the Windsor's Town Clerk's office created an exhibit, "Families Through the Pages," which ran from September 4 - 26 at the Windsor Town Hall. Featuring Windsor town records and other historic documents, it included segments on "Town Establishment and Growth," including government formation, distribution of land, and school societies; "Windsor Families," with special focus on Matthew Grant, Windsor's first Town Clerk and other information on the Grant family as seen through town records; and "Windsor Town Life," including highlights of Windsor's 300th, 325th, and 350th Anniversary celebrations.



DFAW members were actively involved in this event. At the opening reception, held September 4 at 6:00 p.m., Richard Roberts (above), DFAW President and Unit Head of the Connecticut State Library's History and Genealogy Unit, made a brief presentation on "Town Records from the Genealogist's Perspective." He also announced several new State Library Digital Collections including the Matthew Grant "Diary" and the Warwick Patent (see page 8). In conjunction with the exhibit, members of DFAW's board created a display outlining Windsor's early history and families. Continued on Page 6

TREKKING ACROSS THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

Richard C. Roberts

Windsor's early Founders were men and women who were seeking to determine and follow God's will for their lives. The party led by Lt. William Holmes, which arrived at the confluence of the Connecticut and the Farmington Rivers on September 26, 1633, was sent by the Pilgrims of Plymouth, a group of Separatists who thought the Church of England was beyond reformation and who therefore wished to separate themselves from that church.

By 1635, additional English settlers, including Mary and John passengers, had arrived from the Massachusetts Bay Colony. Most agreed with Robert Rich, the Earl of Warwick; Lord Say and Sele; Lord Brooke; and Sir Richard Saltonstall that the Reformation in England had not proceeded far enough, as the Church of England still accepted some Catholic rituals. However, these reformers did not seek to establish a new denomination but rather wished to purify the Church of England from within; hence the name Puritans. They advocated a return to simpler church services and a more democratic style of church government.

Both Pilgrims and Puritans saw themselves as establishing model Christian communities. In Of Plymouth Plantation Governor William Bradford wrote, "As one small Candle may Light a Thousand, so the light here kindled hath shown unto many, yay, in some sort to Our Whole Nation." Governor Bradford's observations were rooted in the Gospel of Matthew:

> "You are the light of the world. A city on a hill cannot be hidden.
> Neither do people light a lamp and put it under a bowl. Instead they put it on its stand, and it gives light to everyone in the house.
> In the same way, let your light shine before men, that they may see your good deeds and praise your Father in heaven.

Similarly, John Winthrop used Matthew's text as the basis for his "A Model of Christian Charity" in 1630. He believed that the Puritans needed to form a covenant with God, just as there had been a covenant between God and the people of ancient Israel. Further, he reminded the Puritan colonists of Massachusetts Bay that "we shall be as a city upon a hill. The eyes of all people are upon us. So that if we shall deal falsely with our God in this work we have undertaken … we shall be made a story and by-word throughout the world."

In 1930, thousands gathered in Windsor to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the founding of Windsor's First Church. As part of the weekend's activities, several hundred gathered on Windsor's Palisado Green, the site of Windsor's first meetinghouse, to unveil and dedicate a monument honoring the first settlers of Windsor. Later that weekend, the Rev. Victor L. Greenwood, observed that "There was always the glad hope in the hearts [of our forefathers] ... that more light would break forth from the word of God." He added, "Always the pathway of our forefathers was from the city of Destruction to the shining portals of the Eternal City."

Rev. Greenwood's message reinforced the theme of a pageant, "Pathways to the Light," presented that weekend before some 3,000 onlookers and intended to present in dramatic form the strivings of Windsor's first settlers to attain an ideal Christian community.

As we consider the many activities conducted this year in celebration of the 375th anniversary of Windsor's founding, this time of Thanksgiving, and the forthcoming season of light, it seems appropriate to reflect on words from that 1930 pageant:

There is a Light that shines into the hearts of men,
However black the world may seem.
It shone through darkness on the Puritans
In England in the reign of Charles the First
Calling and luring on those noble ones
To build their Church where the pure Light of God
Should shine upon them in their brotherhood.

Journeying, journeying, on to the goal,
Paths to the Light they trod.
Urged by the hope in each shining soul,
Strong in the service of God.

They worshiped under the open sky
In the temple of God's own trees.
For music only the sound of the wind
And the rustle of forest leaves.

They dreamed at night of their English homes,
Heard the vibrant sound of the bell.
And they said, "Let us build a house of prayer
Where the spirit of God may dwell."

Where is the Light?
In all the crowding life around you,
have you lost the Light?

Where is the Light?
The Light your fathers struggled to keep bright,
That it might shine upon you through the years,
Has it been lost, or is it shining still?

Where is the Light?
Come you together and you shall find the Light,
Let not indifference or greed
O'er shadow the pure Light that shines from God.

Be one in purpose, as our fathers were,
Journeying on the pathways to the Light.

REGISTRAR'S REPORT

Olivia Patch, Registrar

Since the last Annual Meeting in September 2007, I have processed 18 Lineage Applications. These have been given to our genealogist, Edwin Strickland, for his final perusal and recording into our database.

This year has been slow. We are not receiving the usual number of applications that have come in previous years. However, the good news is that those sent in are usually well-documented and should not have a problem being approved. There are a few problems that need noting, however. Some people are still sending family group sheets with no documentation. The sheets cite sources, but hard copies are not provided. Some are also still using the internet to obtain what they consider proper documentation. However, much of what is obtained by this means comes from secondary sources and does not provide adequate proof, so cannot be accepted.

Edwin and I continue to process and approve older lineage applications lacking documentation to determine whether sources are available. In my spare time, when things are slow, I continue to work on DFAW lineage problem ancestors. If successful, the results will enable us to okay a few applications that have been a problem for years and will pave the way for future applicants with those ancestors to have their lines approved as well.

I have been very active this year representing DFAW on Windsor's 375th Anniversary Committee. Other Board members on this Committee were Larry Phelps and Sandra McGraw. We were also on the Windsor Town Clerk's "Families Through the Pages" committee. We created a DFAW display for the occasion which remained on display for the month of September. Agnes Pier, Windsor's Town Clerk, is quite a historian, and is interested in preserving Windsor's past through the written records found in her vaults.

Larry Phelps, Ruthie Shapleigh-Brown, Dick Roberts, Sandra McGraw, and I put together a DFAW float for Windsor's 375th Anniversary Parade.

THE DFAW COUSIN FINDER EXCHANGE has now been reborn, and I am pleased with the good response thus far. I have prepared a notebook for this service that contains the list of the Founders and the names and contact information for cousins who are doing or have done research on particular Founders and who are willing to share information with others who descend from that ancestor. If you have not heard from a cousin for a particular DFAW Founder yet, it is because no cousin has contacted me yet with that line. The Exchange will be an on-going project which I hope will be kept alive and well; your participation will make this happen.

TIPS FOR SHARING YOUR FAMILY FINDINGS

Olivia C. Patch

Exchanging family information and research can be a rewarding experience. Here are a few tips to help make your participation in our Cousin Exchange service (see form on page 11) successful.

Organize your work/research/family findings. If you are having difficulty with a particular generation, let that be known to your cousins. Briefly describe the research done – both what worked and what didn't.

Give and take. Some cousins don't have easy access to good research facilities; others may need tips on what to do next in their research. Sharing the many research options can be great fun and a learning experience, and you may really get to know your cousins as well as your ancestors!

Nobody is obliged to help you or send you information. Be thankful for it when it comes your way. A short thank you note shouldn't take long and is the proper thing to do. Always thank your cousins for any information received, and reimburse them for postage and copy expenses. Include a SASE when writing a cousin. Postage is getting to be expensive.

Do keep in touch with your new cousins periodically. If corresponding via e-mail, keep your cousins aware of any changes in your e-mail address.

Consider getting more involved in your society by writing short articles on your research experiences, new findings, etc. for our Newsletter.

Enjoy your family history experience!

GRANDMA HOLCOMB'S DOUGHNUTS

Rebecca Phelps Holcomb

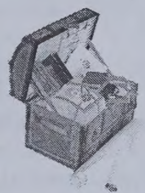
Rebecca Mary (Phelps) Holcomb was a homemaker and practical nurse who enjoyed family history. Her grandchildren and great grandchildren still enjoy doughnuts made from her recipe, served with apple cider during the harvest season.

4 C. flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. nutmeg
4 tsp. baking powder
1 C. milk
1 C. sugar
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ C. shortening
3 eggs

Blend shortening and sugar with the beaten eggs. Add milk and vanilla. Mix well. Add all dry ingredients to make a soft dough. Knead 5 times and roll out 1/3" thick. Cut with a doughnut cutter and fry in 2" to 3" fat until browned. Makes approximately 3 dozen old fashioned GOOD doughnuts.

Maybe you have some "old family recipes" you'd like to share. We'd like to include some recipes with a history in the Newsletter from time to time. Better yet, if there's enough interest, we'd love to publish a Descendants of the Founders of Ancient Windsor cookbook. Dig through those recipe files! Choose some great ones and add an everyday or holiday story that tells why the dish is special to you and your family. Here's a project all DFAW members can contribute to! Send your recipes to DFAW, P.O. Box 39, Windsor, CT 06095.

TENTH NEW ENGLAND REGIONAL GENEALOGICAL CONFERENCE TO BE HELD APRIL 22-26, 2009



The tenth New England Regional Genealogical Conference, Discovering Family Treasures, will be held April 22-26, 2009 at the Expo Center of New Hampshire and Radisson Hotel in Manchester and will build on NERGC's tradition of excellence in providing genealogical lectures, seminars and workshops; the Ancestors Road Show; a Society Fair; and banquets and luncheons for new and established genealogists alike at minimal cost. Over 40 other speakers will help genealogists unlock "family treasures" though sessions covering:

- General genealogical skills and techniques;
- Family history writing and publishing;
- Forensic genealogy;
- Ethnic genealogy of all types, including French-Canadian, Acadian, and Native American;
- Treasures found in regional or local repositories and libraries;
- Techniques for finding and utilizing specific record sources (such as religious, civil, cemetery, military, newspapers, city directories, etc.) and the treasures they contain;
- Accessing resources using technology; research strategies; research pathways; and online resources;
- Finding and preserving family treasures of all types.

For more information about the Conference, visit the NERGC web page, www.NERGC.org.

The Conference hotel, The Radisson Hotel Manchester is now more than ¾ full, and it's only November. Don't be disappointed by missing out on the camaraderie and atmosphere of being with your fellow genealogists at the Conference hotel as many NERGC attendees were in Hartford in 2007 and Portland in 2005. Make your hotel reservation now!

When making reservations online, be sure to enter the group code below to get the special NERGC rate. If making reservations via telephone, please call Radisson Reservations at the telephone number below and indicate to the representative that you are with the New England Regional Genealogical Conference.

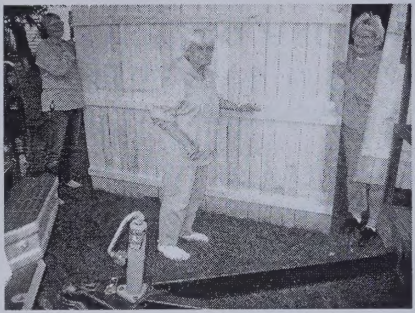
Windsor's 375th Anniversary Gala was held Saturday, September 20 from 6:00 p.m. to midnight at the Hartford Hilton. Costumes were optional and could represent any period of time, spanning four centuries. DFAW's own Olivia and Curt Patch (left) were the winners of the most creative costumes at the ball.

Our Founders Day Observance, scheduled for Friday, September 26, 6:00 p.m. on Palisado Green was moved indoors due to rain. During the program John Pier, Chair of the Windsor 375 Committee, and Christine Ermenc, Director of the Windsor Historical Society, made brief remarks, and DFAW President Richard Roberts led a ceremony honoring all Founders, including the Plymouth Meadow settlers, the "Lords and Gentlemen," and the Mary and John passengers. Recalling DFAW's First Founders Day in 1983, we utilized candles to symbolize the Founders' belief that they were carrying the Light of Christ into the New World. The evening also included a social at which pizza and other refreshments were served.



Throughout September, Board members Ruth Shapleigh-Brown, Sandy McGraw, and Olivia Patch (left), along with Larry Phelps, Richard Roberts, and Olivia's husband Curt, designed and constructed a DFAW float for Windsor's 375th Anniversary Parade incorporating elements from the DFAW insignia. A ship represented both the ship used by Lt. William Holmes to sail up the Connecticut River as well as ships such as the Mary and John in which the Founders crossed the ocean. People represented those settlers who, beginning with Roger Ludlow and John Warham, trekked through the wilderness from the Boston area. "Logs" represented both the Plymouth Trading Post and the Palisado, where the settlers dwelt together for safety. Grape clusters represented the grapevines in the State of Connecticut seal, which stand for the three original river settlements symbolically depicted as living vines that God transplanted and still sustains.

The rain which had moved our Friday activities indoors intensified overnight, forcing the postponement of the parade from Saturday to Sunday, and presented a conflict with our already scheduled "Come Home to Windsor" Reunion. As others gathered for the program at the Oliver Ellsworth Homestead, Ruth Shapleigh-Brown, Curt Patch, and Wayne Skidgel took over the parade assignment. DFAW commends them for going "above and beyond!" Because of the weather and delay of a day, it was a scaled-back parade but was enthusiastically received by all who turned out to watch.

Back at the Ellsworth Homestead, "cousins" from all over the country were busy celebrating DFAW's 25th Anniversary in Matthies Hall. As they gathered, they enjoyed looking at displays of photographs and other memorabilia on display at our "Memory Table", highlighting our 25 years as an organization, and had the opportunity to purchase DFAW merchandise at the sales table run by Dorothy Armstrong and to browse the DAR displays.

By popular demand, we enjoyed our traditional meal from Kane's, complete with the famous squash bake. Following the luncheon, President Richard Roberts spoke on "Celebrating Windsor's Families." He noted that while the desire for adventure and financial gain led some to New England during the seventeenth century, surviving writings of Great Migration immigrants indicate that many came because they felt God was both calling them to move and was protecting and providing for them in that removal. As Roger Clapp, a passenger on the Mary and John wrote, "It was God put it into my heart to incline to live abroad; and it was God that made my father willing. God, by his Providence, brought me near Mr. Warham, and inclined my heart to his ministry. God, by his Providence, moved the heart of my Master, Mossious, to ask me whether I would go to New-England. It was God, by his providence, that made me willing to leave my dear father, and dear brethren and sisters, my dear friends and country."

The remainder of the afternoon provided opportunities for attendees to meet "cousins" and enjoy times of fellowship together while celebrating Windsor's families. Attendees shared memories of the "Trek" of 1983, Founders Day 1983, research trips to England, and other memorable DFAW programs and talked about items they had placed on the "Memory Table." Then, Pam Roberts (right, with husband Richard) led a time of awards and prizes:

- The person who came the greatest distance overall for the weekend -- Dorothy Steffee Roberts from Eugene, Oregon.
- The person who traveled the greatest distance that morning: Donald Dewey, from Reading, north of Dorchester, Massachusetts. Others attending from out-of-state were Art Conner from Indiana, James and Elizabeth Marsh from Maryland, Bill and Jean Heacock from New York, Dwight and Mary Fitch from Massachusetts, Sharon Graves from East Cleveland, Ohio; and John Graves from New York, New York.
- Oldest attendee with the same last name as a Founder: Robert Taylor, 74 years old.
- Oldest person in attendance: Dorothy Steffee Roberts, age 91.
- Youngest attendee with the last name of a Founder: Larry Phelps, who is 47 years old.
- Youngest person present: Churchill Roberts, 10 months old (his grandmother is Dorothy Steffe Roberts).
- Person with the highest number of Founders represented in their ancestry: Ed Strickland, with 54 Founders in his line.
- Person with the most lines to a single Founder: Donald Dewey, with 13 lines to Dewey.
- Person with the birthday closest to Windsor's birthday (September 26): Mary Giffin, from Windsor, whose birthday is September 29.
- Person with a coin in their possession dated closest to 1983: Lorraine Clapp.
- Person with the most letters in the spelling of "Windsor" represented in the spelling of their first, middle, and last names. Tie (6 letters): Edwin W. Strickland, Lois Warner, Lawrence Phelps, Homer W. Scott.
- Matching quiz from Summer Newsletter: First place: Joni Wilson of Wichita, KS; Second place Betsey Lambert of Punta Gorda, FL.
- Attendee who has been a DFAW member the longest (lowest membership number): Robert Taylor.
- Person coming closest to guessing the correct number of candies in the jar: Joan Clapp.

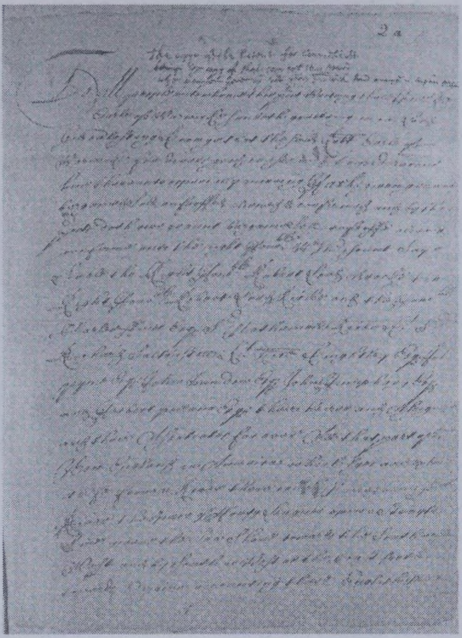
At the business meeting, we heard reports from the Board (see page 3 for the Registrar's Report; additional reports will appear in the next issue), and Officers and Board members were elected for the ensuing year (see page 12). Announcements included an update on our DFAW cookbook and plans for the next New England Regional Conference, to be held April 22-26, 2009 in Manchester, New Hampshire (see page 4). Outgoing Board members Libbie Merrow and Janet Wallace were recognized for their many past contributions to DFAW.

Special thanks were also extended to Nancy Pexa for arranging for the hall and the wonderful meal and to Dorothy Armstrong, Joan Clapp, Sandy McGraw, Olivia Patch, and Pam Roberts for their contributions in making the day such a success. Above all, special thanks go to the Daughters of the American Revolution and the governing body of the Ellsworth Homestead -- the Ellsworth Memorial Association -- for their kindness in allowing us to gather at Matthies Hall. DFAW is also most appreciative of the efforts of the CTDAR members including Nancy Pexa, Jean Kelsey, Mary Hooper, Carol Nelson, and Lois Warner, who worked to make this event so successful and to the docents who gave their time to provide tours to some of our guests.

Joan Clapp, Olivia Patch, and Nancy Pexa contributed to this story.

HOLD THE DATE! DFAW'S Spring Meeting will be Saturday, March 28, 2009 at the Poquonock Community Church. Our speaker will be Agnes Pier, Windsor's Town Clerk. Watch for details in the Winter 2009 Newsletter.

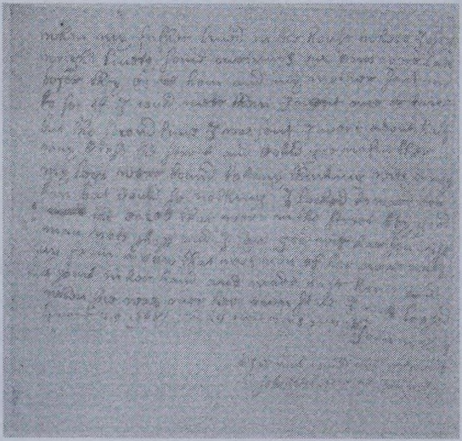
WINDSOR, WARWICK, AND WITCHES (AND MATTHEW GRANT, TOO!)



September 26, 2008 was observed by the Town of Windsor as the official date of its 375th birthday, marking the anniversary of Lt. William Holmes' arrival and establishment of a trading post near the junction of the Connecticut and Farmington Rivers. In conjunction with that anniversary, the Connecticut State Library created online presentations of two records significant to Windsor's early history, the "Warwick Patent," www.cslib.org/WarwickOverview.htm and Matthew Grant's "Diary," www.cslib.org/MatthewGrant.htm. In addition, the Library has created an online presentation of the Samuel Wyllys Papers: Depositions on Cases of Witchcraft, Assault, Theft, Drunkenness, and Other Crimes Tried in Connecticut, 1663-1728, www.cslib.org/wyllysoverview.htm.

The "Warwick Patent" (left) was used to justify the establishment of a colony and the erection of a fort at Saybrook, a claim to lands in Matianuck (later Windsor, Connecticut) by a party led by Francis Stiles, and the establishment of John Winthrop, Jr. as the "governor of the river Connecticut." The "Patent" was subsequently invoked to help legitimize Connecticut's legal status.

Matthew Grant was Windsor Connecticut's first surveyor, second town clerk, and ancestor of President Ulysses S. Grant. His "Diary" (right) includes two sermons by Thomas Hooker, one a Thanksgiving sermon preached October 4, 1638 and the other preached at Windsor June 20, 1647, shortly before Hooker's death; transcriptions of other sermons and religious writings; the Windsor church covenant of 1647; Grant's Rules for Measuring Land; and his family record. Entries on the inside cover of the Notebook record the death by hanging of Alse Young, 1647; of John Newbery, 1647; and of the Carringtons, 1651. According to John M. Taylor's The Witchcraft Delusion in Colonial Connecticut, pp. 145-147, Alse Young and John and Joane Carrington were executed for the alleged crime of witchcraft.



The Samuel Wyllys Papers is an amazing group of 88 court documents from 1600s Connecticut. It includes documents pertaining to Elizabeth Seager, Elizabeth Clawson, Mercy Disborough, and Katherine Harrison -- all accused of witchcraft. Other documents concern a man who sold cider to the Indians on the Sabbath, getting two of them drunk and the case of a wife and her suspected lover, the constables finding him between the two mattresses that made up the bed taking him away with the wife dragging behind, her arms clasped about his waist.

PINE MEADOW AKA WINDSOR LOCKS

Homer W. Scott

Windsor Locks, the last Daughter Town to separate from Ancient Windsor, was a very late bloomer. It took 200 years for the Pine Meadow area to gain the population and resources needed for it to be independent. The early purchase of the area by Windsor is recorded in the 1687 deed by Qashabuck, only child of Sachem Nehano of the Pine Meadow Indians. She stated that her father had sold "about the time of the Pequot War (1637)" to George Hall, Humphrey Pinney, Thomas Ford, and Thomas Lewis, for the inhabitants of Windsor, a tract bounded "north by Stoney Brook, opposite the great island on the falls," east by Connecticut River, south by Gunn's brook at a place called New Brook (Hayden Station) and west by the west side of the mountains. (JH 117) As her father had received full satisfaction, she gave over all her rights to Capt. Benjamin Newbury, Capt. Daniel Clark, Mr. Simon Wolcott, Mr. Henry Wolcott, and Return Strong, representatives of the town of Windsor. (AW 1:125)

After the 1637 purchase from Sachem Nehano, some grants were made of the meadow lands. Deeds dated 1640 show that Gov. Haynes received 10 acres bounded south and west by Pine Meadow Brook. Next to him were John and Thomas Hoskins with 35 rods on the river. Nicholas Denslow was next with 35 rods on the river which ran 80 rods to the west. Thomas Ford received about half the meadow, all of the mill sites and most of the main street area of the present town of Windsor Locks. None of these men settled on their grants. Ford sold part of the meadow to William Gaylord before 1656 and the rest of his holding to Henry Denslow in 1662.

This northern portion of Ancient Windsor, known as Pine Meadow, was without value to the first settlers except for some of meadow land, less than 100 acres, which lay along the river at its southern border. Although the meadow was more than a mile beyond the nearest house in Windsor, a road was opened to it, and parts of it were put under cultivation early. (AW 1:492)

EARLY SETTLEMENT

The first settler was Henry Denslow who, in 1663, brought his wife, Susannah, and seven children to live on the part of his holdings that had been his father's land. A seventh daughter, Elizabeth, Pine Meadow's first English child, was born 11 February 1665. In 1675, at the start of King Philip's war, the family returned to Windsor for safety. In April 1676, Henry went to tend his land and was killed by Indians on their way to attack Simsbury. By 1678, Susannah had returned to Pine Meadow with her children. She and her only son, 17 year old Samuel, carried on the work of their farm. (WL)

The next settler, 15 years later, was Nathaniel Gaylord. He was an infant when his father died, and the Pine Meadow lot his father had bought was reserved as his portion. He married Abigail Bissell in 1678, and about that time he built a house on the brow of a hill at the west end of his lot. He later bought and was granted lands lying west and south of his lot. In 1711, he gave his son Nathaniel Jr., some of his land with a house on it. Among Nathaniel's descendants who lived on his land were Eliakim, Ithiman, Eliakim, and Willbert Gaylord.

Thirty years later, in 1708, Abraham Dibble received a grant of 41 rods of land north of the Gaylords and west of the Denslows where he built his house north of Dibble Hollow. In 1743, Abraham conveyed his land, house, and barn to his son Thomas in consideration of Thomas' maintaining his parents during their natural lives. In 1752, Thomas sold to Joseph Winchel and moved to Torrington to take advantage of land divisions he had received in that new town. About 1777, after several sales, the Dibble lands passed to the Denslow family.

In 1757, Windsor's meeting house had to be replaced. The parish wanted the new one to be centrally located, so the distance from each member's house was measured and a map drawn showing their locations. This map shows that at the time there were still only five families in Pine Meadow -- those of Nathaniel and Joseph Gaylord, Joseph and Samuel Denslow, and, in the Dibble house, Nathaniel Copley, who had married a Denslow. (AW 1:495-6)

1765 saw the next settler in Pine Meadow. Ezekiel Thrall built a house that year on the corner of Elm and Center Streets. When his wife died in 1776, he left town. Peletiah Birge came shortly after 1765, and built about a mile northwest of Thrall. In 1769, Jabez Haskell and Seth Dexter, both from Rochester, Massachusetts, settled on a tract of land they bought from the Haydens. This land lay between the river and Center Street and had been a portion of the Haydens' rights in the 1752 division. Seth Dexter set up a cloth dressing mill on Kettle Brook in 1770. He deeded the property to his son, Seth, who began the first wool-carding industry. A little after 1769, Samuel Coye and Ensign Samuel Wing built houses on West Street.

In the summer of 1776, there were nine family heads in Pine Meadow -- Samuel Denslow, Samuel Wing (from Rochester, Massachusetts), and Samuel Coye (from Ellington) on West Street; Martin Denslow and Seth Dexter on Center Street; two Gaylords off South Center Street; Jabez Haskell on Saw-mill Path (he planted the elms which gave the street its later name); and Jeremiah Birge was north of West Street. All the heads of these families, except Coye, served in the Revolution, as well as did Capt. Martin Denslow and other family members. Ensign Wing, Samuel Coye Jr., and Elihu Denslow, son of Samuel, died in the service. (TJ 562-3,WL)

CHURCH AFFAIRS

Pine Meadow was part of the parish of Windsor First Church. Its early records include memberships and baptisms of Denslows, Dibbles, and Gaylords. (AW 1:517) However, there was a temptation for people in its northern and western sections to attend churches which were closer to them. In May 1737, on the petition of Josiah Phelps the 2nd, Josiah Phelps the 4th, Elijah Owen,

Samuel Owen, John Thrall, Isaac Gillett, Robert Winchell, and Ebenezer Hurlbury, all Windsor men, the Assembly attached the tier, or row, of lots in the northwest corner of Windsor, bounded north on Suffield, west on Symsbury, south on the Farmington River, and east on the common land in Windsor, to the parish of Turkey Hills. (PR 8:110) The northern part of this tier of lots was the western half mile of Pine Meadow in 1854, when it was made the town of Windsor Locks. The southern part of the tier had been added to Bloomfield in 1835.

Windsor's North, or Fourth, Church separated from First Church and was organized in 1761. It was a mile and a half closer for most Pine Meadow people. Nathaniel Gaylord, his wife Elizabeth, and Joseph Gaylord Jr. were founding members. They were joined later by Hannah Denslow; Samuel and Sarah Coy; Seth and Deborah Dexter; Nathaniel Gaylord, the son of Eliakim; Peletiah and Mary Birge; Eleazur and Sylvia Gaylord, and Sarah Wing. (AW 1:517)

Some members joined the North Church but did not take Communion. Their children could be baptized under the half-way covenant. They were Jabez and Elizabeth Haskell; Martin and Lois Denslow, 1771; Elizabeth Thrall, wife of Ezekiel, 1775; Daniel and Mary Ela, 1782; Jacob and Esther Russell, 1785; Azariah and Charity Mather, 1788; and Eliakin Gaylord Jr., 1790.

After the Fourth Church reunited with First Church in 1794, the pastor, Rev. Rowland, preached occasionally in the Pine Meadow schoolhouse. After 1820, there were fortnightly meetings in the schoolhouse, conducted by Eleazur Gaylord, assisted by Herlehigh Haskell, who read the sermons. Then, in 1831, some women organized a Sabbath school which met in the schoolhouse after the afternoon service in Windsor. Its superintendant was Mr. Asa B. Woods, the manager of the Canal. The teachers were Mrs. Herlehigh Haskell, Mrs. A. B. Woods, Miss Eliza Denslow, Miss Harriet Dexter, Charles H. Dexter, and O. M. Nelson. In 1832, they started having more Sunday services in the schoolhouse for those who had no way to get to Windsor. About 1834, a chapel was built, and for the next ten years services were generally led by students or staff of the Theological Institute in East Windsor, except on Communion Sundays when members went to Windsor.

The Congregational Church was organized 22 February 1844. Its founding members were Herlehigh and Arathusa Haskell, Asa B. and Elizabeth Woods, Charles H. and Lydia Dexter, Silvia, widow of Seth Dexter, Betsey, wife of Luke Fish, Elisa and Mary A. Pickett, and Jabez H. Hayden, who came from Windsor Church, and Oliver and Anna Hawley from Poquonnock, Myron Webb from Bennington, Vermont and Hannah Allen from Barre, Massachusetts. Mr. Woods was the deacon. The village population was between 250 and 300. (AW 1:517-19)

DEVELOPMENT

In 1710, the Assembly had the north line of Windsor surveyed "Beginning at the mouth of Kettle Brook (commonly called Stony Brook) where it empties into the Connecticut River against an island in the River, then going five miles west into the wilderness." (PR 5:147) However, Massachusetts Bay Colony claimed much of northern Windsor at this time, and there was disagreement about its northern boundary with Suffield, which was claimed by Massachusetts. Suffield's south line was one mile below Stony Brook. In 1749, the Assembly, in response to a petition by some Suffield people, ruled that the town was part of Connecticut. (PR 9:437) This ended the disagreements but also left Suffield in control of what had been Windsor's north mile.

Until 1732, all the Pine Meadow lands, except for 80 rods in width along the river and the Gaylord and Dibble grants, was "common land." At that time it was transferred to the proprietors, who made a few small grants. In 1752, a committee of the proprietors laid out highways and divided the land among Windsor proprietors according to their family assessments on the 1720 tax list. Among those receiving land division grants were four Pinneys, two Haydens, five Griswolds, five Phelpses, a Bissell, and a Shelding. (ES 45-7) These men did not settle there, but sold or passed on their rights.

Among the streets the committee laid out in 1752 were North and Elm Streets, which ran east-west. The streets running north-south were West, which ran between North and Elm Streets, and Center, which ran from North Street to below Elm Street. Before 1776, Center Street was extended southward to give a highland connection to central Windsor.

Before these roads were laid out there had been a few others in Pine Meadow. The earliest road, from Hayden's at Gunns Brook, ran near the river through the meadows up to the Denslow place. It gave Windsor men access to their lots in the meadows. In 1815, this road was extended northward as East Street, running up to Suffield. A number of informal "trespass" roads also grew up to connect homes and fields.

Next was the "Old Country Road." It started as a path, striking out northwest from Hayden's, then north across the plains. This route avoided brooks and swamps and became the main road to Massachusetts on the west side of the river. It had been cleared enough by 1729 for the proprietors to set its width at 3, later 4, rods. Near where today's Halfway House Road crosses Old Country Road there was a tree near the head of Kettle Brook. A pond here provided the only water for the five miles across the plains, and travelers and drovers stopped there to water their animals and have a pipe under the "Old Smoking Tree." (JH 77)

Timothy Dwight travelled this route about 1815. He said that from Windsor to Suffield the road went over a plain of yellow pine for about five miles. The first mile had been cut and was growing back as oak. The soil was thin, and the produce of the fields was inconsiderable. (DT 1:39) This explains why the early settlers found much of Pine Meadow of little value. The pine forest was valuable in the 1700s as a source of pine tar, charcoal and lumber.

In the 1600s it was not as attractive for settlement as were the rich meadows along the river.

In 1726, the proprietors of the common lands appointed a committee "to license persons to cut timber on the commons." The boards and timber were to be used by Windsor inhabitants. Also, men making charcoal and pine tar were to pay two shillings a load for wood for their kilns. Their shillings would be refunded if they delivered the charcoal to Windsor smiths.

In 1742, Samuel Denslow sold to Daniel Hayden one half of his saw mill along with its right-of-way out to the commons to get logs for the mill. Later, the other half was sold to Isaac Hayden. In 1769, the saw mill was bought by Jabez Haskell and Seth Dexter, whose families operated it jointly into the 1840s. The mill's right-of-way eventually became Saw Mill Path, and then Elm Street.

The first schoolhouse was built about 1776 by Jabez Haskell and Seth Dexter. It was at the southeast corner of Center and Elm streets on Dexter's land. Haskell and Dexter appear to have managed it initially. Before 1800, a good public school was held there. It was the only schoolhouse until 1850, when the district was divided. (TJ 564)

In 1781, Eliakim Gaylord and Elijah Higley set up a small gristmill on Pinemeadow Brook. Then Jacob Russell had it for 30 years. It was later used for wool-carding. (TJ 566)

In 1783, James Chamberlain received a charter for operating a ferry. The next year, Haskell and Dexter built a store on the river near the ferry. In 1788, the last, eastern, portion of the old Sawmill Path was made a town road for access to the ferry and store.

In 1784, Haskell and Dexter built a grist mill below the old Denslow-Hayden sawmill, near the mouth of Kettle Brook. When it lost its water power to the Canal in 1819, they built a replacement mill near the Kettle Brook dam. Charles H. Dexter began experimenting with paper-making in its basement. Their first gristmill was later used as a storeroom for the C. H. Dexter paper plant. Dexter's improved methods of making paper, including using manila pulp, helped make Hartford County a paper center. (WL)

In 1811, Herlehigh and Harris Haskell built a gin distillery on their land near the river. It was a boon to area farmers who provided the rye and corn. It was successful, but the owners, good church members, closed it in 1833, paying a price for their change in beliefs. It was then converted to a silk mill and was the first business to use water from the Canal for power. (TJ 566)

In 1833, a post office was set up at the Dexter gristmill, with Charles H. Dexter as postmaster. The Connecticut River Company successfully promoted the name of Windsor Locks for the new postal district. (WL)

In 1854, when Pine Meadow had a church, increased population, considerable industry, and a post office, the Assembly set it off as a separate town named Windsor Locks. At the first Town Meeting on 3 July 1854, the selectmen were Lucius Chapman, Talcott Mather, and Oliver Hayden. Charles Spencer was Town Clerk. Pine Meadow was smaller than it had been in the 1600s, having lost its north mile to Suffield in 1749. Three years after its incorporation, in 1858, Windsor Locks shrank again when it gave up its western mile to East Granby, a town where Windsor Locks people had gone to church and school since 1737.
